Which was done.

And the President-elect having been introduced to Council by Mr. Perry, took and subscribed to the oath of office, which was administered to him by Mr. Paul, the member appointed for that purpose by the Clerk.

President Lambie said :

"GENTLEMEN OF SELECT COUNCIL:—In assuming the duties of this position for a third time. I desire to return to the members of Select Council my thanks for the honor they have conferred upon me. I esteem it an honor to have been elected chairman of this body; it is an honor worthy of any man's ambition. For my adversary, who so kindly escorted me to the chair, I have nothing but kind wishes and good feeling, he having been a personal friend of mine for many long years. To the other gentlemen, through whose vote I have been elected to this position, I return heartfelt thanks. To the members of Council who voted against, or who voted for me, I have nothing but good wishes and good will. It was said at one time, at the battle of Trafalgar, by Admiral Nelson, in running a pennant to the top of the mast, 'England expects every man to do his duty! England expects every man to do his duty!' The citizens of Pittsburgh, who have sent you here, expect you to do your duty. They expect each and every member here to do his duty. The Chairman of this body will expect you to do your duty; not your duty as some of our newspaper friends may dictate it to you, or some politician may dictate it to you, or as a ring or set of men may dictate it to you, but as your reason, judgment and conscience dictates it to you. Your constituents send you here to act for them and you should do them honor. You are responsible to no man beneath the sun, except your constituents.

The gentleman who nominated me said that we were free men. We are sent here to exercise our own judgment and reason and to obey our conscience, and when we have done that, we have done our duty.

It was with great pain that I read in the papers a few days ago that if I were elected Chairman of this body that no Republican should be on any committee from Common Council. If that is so, it would be as reasonable to expel all members not in the majority. I wish to say to you, gentlemen, that your Chairman will not follow such a proceeding. I will endeavor to arrange the membership on committees so as to give you all a fair show.

I don't think that I ought to say anything more. I have taken the oath of office, and I felt that I could take it sincerely and conscientiously. The campaign just closed has been a very hard one, but I have reason to thank my adversaries, for not one of them has said an unkind word about me.

The following members-elect appeared at the President's desk and took and subscribed to the oath of office, which was administered to them by President Lambie.

No. 17.

To the Presidents and Members of Select and Common Councils:

GENTLEMEN:—I submit herewith estimates of the whole cost of the proposed filtration plant, included in the proposed extension and improvement of the water supply and distribution of the City of Pittsburgh, the filtration of such water supply, and the establishment of the meter system.

I submit: First, the estimate of the total cost of the filtration plant proper, made by Mr. Morris Knowles, Resident Filtration Engineer, and approved by Mr. Allen Hazen, Consulting Filtration Engineer, as contained in their report to me, dated April 1, 1902; second, the estimate of the total cost of the proposed introduction and establishment of a meter system, made by Mr. A. B. Shepherd, Superintendent of the Bureau of Water Supply and Distribution, and Mr. Morris Knowles, Resident Filtration Engineer, and approved by Mr. Allen Hazen, Consulting Filtration Engineer, as contained in their report to me, dated April 1, 1902.

These two reports are hereto attached and the estimates therein given are accepted and adopted by this department.

The estimate of the total cost of the proposed filtration plant alone (including land) is $2,981,000.00. The estimate of the total cost of introducing and establishing the meter system is $654,500.00.

The Filtration Commission's estimates of the cost of sand filters with sedimentation basins and appurtenances, were as follows:

Sand Filters with Sedimentation Basins.
Intake, pumping machinery, pump and pump house	$ 315,000
Sedimentation basin	200,000
Filters	751,000
Pure water reservoirs.....	133,000
Force main and conduits.....	78,600
Tunnel under river.....	60,000
Engineering and contingencies, 10 per cent.....	153,760
Total cost of construction	$1,691,360
Land with reserve area to double plant	420,000

Total estimated cost.....$2,111,360

The Filtration Commission in the concluding paragraph of its report, made these recommendations:

"We recommend, in conclusion, that the City of Pittsburgh adopt, for its water supply, the system of sand filtration upon the plan recommended herewith in the report of our Consulting Engineer, and that the system of selling water by meter be likewise adopted. For the erection of a filtration plant approximately $1,700,000 will be required; to provide the necessary site $500,000 should be amply sufficient; to establish the meter system will require an additional outlay of $600,000. We recommend that your honorable bodies make provision for an issue of bonds for these purposes to the amount of $3,000,000, the bonds to be issued by the proper authorities as they may be required, and no more to be issued than are actually required to provide for the establishment of a system of filtering and metering the water supplied to the city. In recommending an issue of bonds to the amount of $3,000,000, we have allowed $200,000 for contingencies, which might, but are unlikely to, arise, and we believe that the sum above named will be quite sufficient to make it sure that all the water supplied the municipality will be wholesale, as it certainly will be clear and free from mud."

It will thus be seen at the time of the report of the Filtration Commission in 1899, it was the opinion of the Commission, after a careful and exhaustive investigation of the subject, that the total cost would be less than $3,000,000, and so the recommendation was submitted to Councils, that provision be made for the issue of bonds to this amount. Councils, however, limited the bond issue to $2,500,000, apparently intending to meet the additional cost by direct taxation.

The present estimates are:

Land already bought and paid for.....	$ 127,500
Land condemned, price of which is not yet determined, estimated at same rate per acre as that already bought	97,500
Filters, sedimentation basins and ac- cessories, as included in Contract No. 1 (on which bids were recently received).....	1,500,000
Pumping engines, three 35,000,000 gal. each, high duty	300,000
Filtered water reservoir and connec- tions	225,000
River crossing and connections, at Brilliant.....	125,000
Intake, engine house, boiler house and accessories.....	250,000
Boilers, coal storage and coal hand- ling machinery.....	50,000
Sand washer, pumps, electric machi- ner and lighting, crane and acces- sories.....	35,000
Sum of above items	$2,710,000
Engineering and contingencies (in- cluding amount already spent) 10 per cent.....	271,000
Total estimated cost of Filtration plant, complete	$2,981,000
Cost of installing meters on all services of the City Water Works at the pres- ent time.....	$505,000
Add for general expenses and contingencies, 10 per cent	59,500	654,500
Total cost of proposed Filtration Plant, in- cluding the cost of meters.....		$3,635,500

The estimates given by the Engineers now, are higher than those of the Filtration Commission, because since the report of that Commission the prices of labor and material have greatly advanced, and are at present largely in excess of the prices at that time. In addition to the fact of advancement of prices, in order to guard against the possibility of delaying work on the Filtration Plant, the Engineers have thought it advisable to submit estimates, reasonable, and at the same time sufficiently liberal, to justify the City in incurring the expense of passing ordinances and advertising for proposals for bids, the probability being that the bids would not exceed the estimates; otherwise, it would be necessary to reject them, increase the estimates, pass new ordinances and advertise again, because it is provided in the Charter Act of 1901 that "no bid in excess of such estimate shall be accepted." The ordinance heretofore authorizing the letting of contract No. 1, limited the price to $1,500,000, and the lowest bid received was $1,292,000. Had the price been limited to $1,291,000, it would have been necessary to reject all bids and readvertise.

The estimates for all the work, except for contracts Nos. 1, 2, and 3 (drafts of proposed ordinances, which are herewith submitted for the consideration of your Honorable Bodies), are based upon preliminary plans and sketches, and it will probably take some months—until mid-summer, or longer—to prepare detailed letting plans and specifications for all of the remainder of the work. In the meantime, it seems advisable that progress be made on those parts of the work upon which we are prepared to proceed, for those parts will take the longest time to complete; the remaining portions can be prepared and finished in time for the operation of the filters themselves. It is particularly desirable that contracts for pumping engines be let, and thus all details, as to their design, size and arrangement, be known before designing the building.

Respectfully yours,

J. GUY MCCANDLESS,
Director, Department of Public Works.

PITTSBURGH, April 14, 1902.

PITTSBURGH, PA., April 1, 1902.

DR. J. GUY MCCANDLESS,
Director of the Department of Public Works,
City Hall, Pittsburgh, Pa.

SIR:—In accordance with your request of March 24th, I submit herewith an estimate of the cost of the proposed filtration plant for the present water supply system of the City of Pittsburgh, together with the estimated cost of establishing a system of meters for the present distribution system of the City Water Works.

Land already bought and paid for.....	$ 127,500
Land condemned, price of which is not yet determined, estimated at same rate per acre as that already bought.....	97,500
Filters, Sedimentation Basins and accessories as included in Contract No. 1 (on which bids were recently received)	1,500,000

Pumping Engines, 3—35,000,000 gal. each, high duty.....	300,000
Filtered Water Reservoir and Connections.....	225,000
River Crossing and Connections, at Brilliant	125,000
Intake, Engine House, Boiler House and accessories.....	250,000
Boilers, Coal Storage and Coal Handling Machinery.....	50,000
Sand Washer Pumps, Electric Machinery, and Lighting, Crane and accessories	35,000
Sum of above items	$2,710,000
Engineering and Contingencies (including amount already spent), 10 per cent.....	271,000
Total estimated cost of Filtration Plant, complete.....	$2,981,000
Cost of installing meters on all services of the City Water Works at the present time.....	$ 595,000
Add for general expenses and contingencies, 10 per cent.....	59,500
Total cost of proposed Filtration Plant, including the cost of meters	$3,635,500

The estimates for the River Crossing and Connections at Brilliant, for the Intake, Engine House, Boiler House and accessories, for Boilers, Coal Storage, Coal Handling Machinery, and for Sand Washing Pumps, Electric Lighting, Crane and accessories are based upon preliminary plans only and are less detailed than the others.

The cost of metering has been obtained from the detailed estimate for the same, made in co-operation with Mr. A. B. Shepherd, Superintendent of the Bureau of Water Supply and Distribution.

The sums which I have estimated for doing various parts of the work are considerably in excess of those sums which I believe to be sufficient for doing the work at the present time upon a reasonable basis. It is necessary to make the estimate in this way, because the City Charter requires that no contract shall be let for more than the estimate of the cost of doing the work. In order to avoid delays and relettings, the estimate has been made sufficiently liberal so that I believe it is reasonably sure that bids can be obtained within the estimate for each part of the work.

Respectfully submitted,
MORRIS KNOWLES,
Resident Filtration Engineer.

Approved:
ALLEN HAZEN,
Consulting Filtration Engineer.

of installing a system of meters upon the present services within the distribution system of the Water Works belonging to the City of Pittsburgh.

In order to ascertain the cost for this work, it has been necessary for us to make an estimate of three factors.

1—The total number and the sizes of services (or ferrules) now in use.

2—The cost, delivered in Pittsburgh, of the meters of various sizes which will be needed.

3—The cost of installing these meters, including the discovery of connections not now definitely located and the combining of several connections where one is sufficient.

Section 1—As nearly as can be ascertained from the books of the Bureau of Water Supply and Distribution and of Water Assessment, there were about 23,000 services in use in Pittsburgh in 1893; since that time and to the date of January 1, 1902, there have been added 11,960, making the total estimated number of services in use January 1, 1902, about 35,000.

In order to ascertain what proportion of the total number of services will need meters of the various sizes, we have investigated the reports of 26 leading American cities which use meters, varying in number from 500 to 17,000 in each city; the number of services of various sizes in several cities and those added in Pittsburgh since 1893.

From a careful study of all these figures and from our judgment based upon knowledge of the conditions in this city, we have concluded that the division of the total number of meters to be used in this city will probably be about as follows:

75 per cent. of $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch, 12 per cent. of $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch, 10 per cent. of 1-inch and the remaining 3 per cent. distributed among meters $1\frac{1}{2}$ -inch and larger in size.

Section 2—As to the probable cost of meters of various sizes, we have considered not only the net water works prices of the various meters in use to-day, but also the prices which have been bid upon meters of various sizes in larger quantities in several of the large cities within recent months. Such prices as we have obtained by this method have been applied to the total number of meters of each size. Without going into the details of the calculation, we may state that this produces an average for the cost of meters, delivered in Pittsburgh, of about $11.50.

Section 3—We find that the problem of making an estimate of the cost of installing the meters is the most serious and indefinite one which we have because of the lack of exact knowledge regarding the location and condition of the service pipes, and also because it is probable that in several instances many connections are here used for a given supply where one is sufficient and should be used. In many instances it is also likely that it will not be possible to get meters within the walls or inside of the dwellings or factories, and this will necessitate the extra expense of building vaults or some structure outside. Wherever time must be spent in discovering and overhauling service pipes, it will also increase the expense of the work.

For the purpose of this estimate we have decided that the best we can do is to assume that two-thirds of the number of each of the smaller sized meters, up to one-inch, can be set inside and at a minimum expense, simply by cutting the pipe and placing connections. The remainder may be divided into two portions, one of which will be placed outside in some form of box, which will probably increase the price to four or five times what it would otherwise be for installing and setting inside. But the second portion may require considerable hunting and study to locate properly and arrange for the best method of setting of the meters, the cost of which is quite indefinite, but is best assumed at something more than the cost of the first portion mentioned. For all meters three inches and above, in size, we have assumed a flat rate for cost of installation. Without going into the details of the cost of the several sizes in the several groups, we will say that the average cost of setting the several meters was found to be about $5.50. The cost of the meters themselves added to the cost of setting, makes $17.00 per meter, which applied to 35,000 meters will give a sum of $595,000, and to this should be added 10 per cent. for supervision, engineering and contingencies, making the total cost of installation for the 35,000 meters, to be used in the Municipal distribution system, $655,000. The average yearly increase of services during the past five years has been about 1.50%, and upon this basis and present prices the additional cost for each year taken to complete the work will be about $28,000.

The above estimate is based upon a somewhat inaccurate knowledge of the location, condition and character of many of the service connections to the city water mains, but in our judgment the above estimate is considered liberal enough to allow for ordinary contingencies and unlooked for conditions.

To Select and Common Councils, City of Pittsburgh:

The petition of Hugh Murphy and Michael Diebold, of the Twentieth ward, City of Pittsburgh, late co-partners as Murphy & Diebold, respectfully represents: That in the years 1898, 1899 and 1900, and for some years prior to that your petitioners were the owners as tenants in common of a certain lot of ground situate in the easterly side of North Negley avenue, near Margaretta street, fronting 57 feet thereon, and extending back 100 feet; that in the year 1898, when the assessment was made by the Board of Assessors, the property was assessed to your petitioners as a lot 57x100 feet, at the rate of $100 per foot, making the total amount $5,700 for said lot, as will appear by the blotter of 1898, page 24, Second Volume, Nineteenth ward, in the Assessor's office, but in posting the figures a clerical error was made, by which the figure one (1) was incorrectly prefixed, whereby said lot was assessed at $15,700, instead of $5,700, and said error was carried through to the Treasurer's books. That your petitioners at the time owned a number of other pieces of land in said ward and the error was not discovered at the time, and for the years 1899 and 1900, the lots still continued to be assessed at $15,700, instead of $5,700, and your petitioners paid taxes on said valuation of $15,700, for the years 1898, 1899 and 1900. That a short time ago your petitioners discovered the error, and by reason of said error your petitioners have paid taxes on a valuation of $10,000, in excess of the real assessed value of said property, and are advised that the taxes paid in excess of the amount they were legally liable for, were as follows:

1898	$116 58
1899	115 24
1900	128 64
	$360 46

Your petitioners therefore ask that an ordinance be passed refunding to them the taxes so paid by mistake. And they will ever pray, etc.

MICHAEL DIEBOLD.

BUSINESS FROM COMMON COUNCIL.

C. C. No. 112

A resolution authorizing the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the water supply of the City of Pittsburgh and matters appertaining thereto.

WHEREAS, The City of Pittsburgh recently has been threatened with a failure in its water supply arising from causes not publicly made known, and

WHEREAS, Said condition existed while pumping facilities which heretofore have fully maintained a sufficient supply of water have been operated to their full capacity, and,

WHEREAS, The low stage of water in certain reservoirs has exposed an accumulation of reeking filth, the result of failure to thoroughly cleanse said reservoirs for a period of fifteen years as alleged, and

WHEREAS, Such conditions create widespread alarm, are a menace to life and property, have threatened to make insurance risks extra hazardous, if not altogether prohibitive, and have called forth from the Director of the Department of Public Works the following notice:

PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1902.

"To the Citizens of Pittsburgh:

On account of the scarcity of water in the reservoir and the impaired condition of the engines at Brilliant Pumping Station, it will be necessary, in order to recuperate the water supply, to close the distributing gates at the reservoir for a sufficient length of time to permit of necessary repairs to be made. The supply of water in the reservoir is being steadily exhausted and it will be necessary to resort to this extreme measure to prevent possibly a total water famine. The public is hereby requested to economize as much as possible in the use of water pending this temporary cessation of the supply.

Due notice will be given through the newspapers when this proclamation will be carried into effect, which may occur at any time within the next forty-eight hours.

J. GUY McCANDLESS,

Director Department Public Works."

Now, therefore be it Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution a joint committee of Councils shall be appointed—consisting of two members of the Select Branch to be designated by the President thereof and three members of the Common Branch to be designated by the President thereof—whose duties shall be to investigate the water supply of the City of Pittsburgh and the recently threatened failure thereof as well as all matters and conditions relating thereto and at the earliest date possible report its findings of fact together with such recommendations as may be deemed proper, and further,

No. 222.

PITTSBURGH, April 18, 1902.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh. Municipal Hall, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen:—On February 14, 1898, I sold and transferred to J. J. Vandergrift a lot of machinery, located in Vandergrift building, corner of Third and Liberty streets. I now find that this machinery has been assessed to me in the First ward of said city at a valuation of sixty-eight hundred ($6,800.00) dollars for 1898, and was continued to be assessed against me in said ward at the same valuation for the years 1899 and 1900, and was paid by me from the fact that I did not examine the items of my assessment. It was also assessed against me for 1901 and 1902, at a valuation of ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars, but this assessment for these two years has been exonerated by the proper authorities before payment.

The rate of tax levy for 1898 in the First ward was 15.6 mills and the tax paid for that year was one hundred six and 8-100 (106.08) dollars, for the year 1899 the rate was 15.8 mills and the tax paid for that year was one hundred seven and 44-100 ($107.44) dollars and for the year 1900 the rate was 17 1-3 mills, making the amount for that year one hundred seventeen and 87-100 ($117.87) dollars, making a total of three hundred thirty-one and 39-100 ($331.39) dollars.

I, therefore, respectfully present this petition to your honorable bodies, praying that the resolution herewith submitted may be passed so that this amount can be refunded to me, and I will ever pray.

W. M. LAIRD.

Also,

No. 223. Resolution authorizing the issuing of a warrant in favor of W. M. Laird for $331.39, refunding taxes on personal property in First ward, and charge Appropriation No. 49.

Which were referred to the Committee on Finance.

Also,

No. 225. An Ordinance authorizing the acceptance of the grading, paving and curbing of Wilmot street, between Bouquet street and the line dividing the properties of Hill Burgwin estate and that of Joseph Loughrey estate, in the Fourteenth ward, and declaring the same

Mr. Donahoe moved

That the rule be suspended in order that the Ordinances and Resolutions be put on second and third reading and final passage.

Upon which motion Mr. Upperman demanded a call of the ayes and noes, and the demand having been sustained, the ayes and noes were ordered to be taken and being taken were:

AYES—Messrs.

Barry	Fleming	O'Brien
Booth	Gallagher	Schempp

NOES—18.

So the motion did not prevail.

The Chair, under the rule of Select Council, referred the Ordinances and Resolutions to the Committee on Public Safety of Select Council.

Mr. Stewart moved

That the Committee on Public Safety of Select Council be permitted to sit during this session for the consideration of these papers.

Mr. Douglas arose and said:

"I rise to a point of order. The papers having been read a first time are over the first reading. The failure to suspend the rule for second and third reading and final passage puts the papers over until the next meeting."

The Chair said:

"The point of order is 'not well taken.' The papers may be taken up now and referred if Council so desires."

Mr. Douglas arose and said:

"I appeal from the decision of the Chair."

The Chair called Mr. Murphy to the Chair.

Mr. Murphy said:

"The gentleman making the appeal and the chairman are each permitted to speak on an appeal from the decision of the Chair."

Mr. Douglas said:

"I'll say that under all parliamentary rules, when a bill is read a first time, and a motion made to suspend the rules for second and third reading and final passage, and that motion fails, it follows that the bills must be laid over until the next meeting."

Mr. Lambie said:

"The motion to refer is in order at any stage of the proceedings. The motion to suspend the rules was voted down, and under the rules the papers then go to the proper committee of this branch. That committee has asked to sit during this session and there is no reason why they cannot sit now if they so desire. Certainly Council can refuse to let them sit if they vote against it."

Mr. Douglas said:

"I'll just say one word. The act of Assembly requires that all ordinances shall be read three times on three different days unless the rules be suspended. There was a motion made to take these ordinances up and suspend the rules, and was lost, and the papers cannot be called up, having failed to suspend the rules. I am willing to appeal to any one here, who knows anything about parliamentary law, on this question."

And on the question "Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

AYES—Messrs.

Atkinson	Platt	Upperman
Benz	Rothweiler	Voskamp
Diehl	Ruhlandt	Wainwright
Jones	Shenkel	Wilson
Murphy	Stewart	Zahniser

NOES—17.

Mr. Murphy said

"The vote being 17 to 17, the Chair is sustained."

Mr. Douglas said:

"The Chair is not sustained when the vote is tie."

Mr. Murphy said:

"In all parliamentary bodies the Chair is sustained, in an appeal from the Chair, when the vote is a tie."

And Mr. Lambie again taking the chair said:

"The question is now shall the committee be permitted to sit during this session of Council?"

Upon which motion Mr. Wightman demanded a call of the ayes and noes, and the demand having been sustained, the ayes and noes were ordered to be taken and being taken were:

AYES—MESSRS.

Atkinson	Platt	Upperman

Mr. Douglas arose and said:

"I wish to present the report of the Public Works Committee transmitting sundry papers with an affirmative recommendation. In the report is embodied a rule under which the Committee reports all business from the Select Council to that body, and all business from the Common Council to that body."

The Chair said:

"At the last meeting of this Council the gentleman presented a report of organization of this Committee and returned certain ordinances. The Chair ruled that under the charter ordinance of 1902 that your committee should report in Common Council and refused to accept the report. There was no proposition made to return to this Council the papers which originated here and to the Common Council the papers which originated in that body. The Chair is of the opinion that it is the duty of each Committee to return to each body the papers that originate there. He therefore proposes to accept from that Committee such papers that originated in this body. I will say in explanation that in a case which was before the Supreme Court in Philadelphia the Court ruled that the Constitution requires that papers be returned to the body in which they originate. Under that opinion, the Chair believes it proper to receive the papers that originates in this body."

The Chair said

"Under the rules recently adopted these papers go to the Committee on Public Works of this Council. Are there any motion to suspend the rule?"

Mr. Douglas:

"No, sir?"

Mr. Sankey presented from the Special Committee appointed to investigate certain charges preferred against members of Select Council.

No. 283.

To the Select Council of the City of Pittsburgh:

Your committee appointed on Monday, April 14th, 1902, to investigate certain charges of corruption attending the election of President of Select Council, held on Monday, April 7th, 1902, and to make a report of the facts found by them, together with the testimony taken, within two weeks after their appointment, have performed that duty and beg leave to report:

That your committee held a preliminary meeting on Friday, April 18th, for the purpose of inquiring of the City Attorney his opinion as to the powers of the committee to compel the attendance of witnesses, and being informed by him that it could not compel witnesses to appear and testify, it was determined to send notices in lieu of the regular subpoena to such persons as the committee thought would have knowledge of the truth of the charges.

Notices stating the time and place of taking testimony were served personally on each member of Select Council, also on E. M. Bigelow, Andrew Fulton, C. G. Elwood and W. B. Hays.

In response to these notices twenty-seven members of Select Council presented themselves and were examined under oath by your committee; one was reported out of the city; and one sent a valid excuse for his absence; and the following nine members failed to appear and testify:—

John Benz, P. J. Donahue, R. H. Douglas, Thomas Geary, Evan Jones, P. B. Keans, W. D. O'Brien, John J. Shenkel, John H. Voscamp and Charles H. West.

Andrew Fulton and C. G. Elwood also appeared and testified.

In response to the notice sent to Mr. Bigelow to attend the first hearing the committee received the following reply:

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 22nd, 1902.

Mr. W. E. SANKEY, Chairman.

DEAR SIR:

Your communication, requesting me to attend a meeting of a Councilmanic Committee, of which you are chairman, was received this morning at 9 o'clock.

I have had some experience with Councilmanic Committees on two previous occasions and that experience does not commend such Committees to me, especially one constituted as yours is, and which has proceeded as you have.

I, therefore, decline to appear before your Committee.

Yours truly,

EDWARD M. BIGELOW.

As John Paul testified at the first hearing that Mr. Bigelow offered him anything he wanted on Committees if he would vote for Mr. Booth for President, and it appearing in the public press that it was Mr. Bigelow who accused certain members of Select Council of having received bribes, the Committee sent another notice to Mr. Bigelow to appear, but he could not be prevailed upon to testify.

The following notice was then sent to the editors of all the newspapers in the City:

Dear Sir:

Owing to the numerous statements, made by the press of this City, that there has been bribery, and attempts at bribery of members of Select Council at the recent election of its President, that body has appointed a committee to investigate the truth of the charges.

It is desired that every one who has any knowledge of the facts appear and testify, and you are respectfully requested to offer as a witness any one whom you know, or have reason to believe can give any information that will be valuable to the committee.

The Committee will meet in Select Council Chamber on Thursday, April 24th, at 7:30 o'clock P. M., at which time and place all persons sent by you to testify will be fully heard.

(Signed.)

WM. E. SANKEY,

Chairman.

Not one of the newspapers responded to this notice, and it is regretted by your Committee, that after so publicly and persistently stating that there was bribery and attempts at bribery, at the recent election of President of Select Council, not one of the editors was public spirited enough to send a representative to tell under oath what he knew as to the truth of the charges.

In accordance with these notices your Committee met and being first duly sworn, publicly took the testimony of the witnesses who presented themselves at the Select Council Chamber, on Tuesday, April 22nd, and on Thursday, April 24th, at 7:30 o'clock P. M.

From the testimony as taken your Committee finds: that no member of Select Council who presented himself as a witness accepted any money, promise or personal advantage of any kind whatsoever for his vote or official influence in the recent election of its President. As to those members who did not present themselves for examination, your Committee finds that there has been no testimony taken tending either to criminate or to exonerate them. That the newspapers of this City have mentioned the names of members who are said to have been offered money for their vote at said election of President, and these members have failed, although duly notified, to come before your Committee and under oath deny these charges.

Your Committee also finds the following: John J. Morgan testified that two members of Select Council offered him, if he would vote for Mr. Lambie, to go to Mr. Fihn and see if they could not get his brother re-instated in a position he had lost. John Paul testified that E. M. Bigelow promised that if he would vote for Mr. Booth for President he could get anything on committees he wanted. Thomas E. Perry testified that while he was not offered any money, there was a very heavy influence brought to bear to get him to vote for Mr. Booth. He said that a gentleman came to his house one evening and told him that he came there prepared to offer him anything that he wanted, but he did not know whether the gentleman meant committees, or money, or what.

Your Committee recommends, that inasmuch as councils of cities of the second class in Pennsylvania have no power to compel the attendance of witnesses in proceedings to investigate the conduct of its own members, that the Legislature be appealed to to extend to councils of cities of the second class the same powers for the compulsory attendance of witnesses as are now enjoyed by cities of the first class in Pennsylvania.

In accordance with the resolution, the testimony taken by your Committee is annexed to this report and made a part hereof.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
WM. E. SANKEY,
S. J. WAINWRIGHT, JR.,
JOHN A. MURPHY.

Which was read.

Mr. Murphy moved

C. C. No. 437.

WHEREAS, Mr. Andrew Carnegie in a communication to the Hon. W. J. Diehl, Mayor, under date of November 15, 1900, says, inter alia:

I believe that a first-class technical school, probably as large as that of Worcester, would develop latent talent around us to such extent as to surprise the most sanguine.

If the City of Pittsburgh will furnish a site, which I hope will be of ample size for future extensions, I shall be delighted to provide the money for such a school, taking care to provide room for additions to the buildings, to meet the certain growth of Pittsburgh.

I would endow it with $1,000,000 five per cent. gold bonds, yielding a revenue of $50,000 per year.

The rare ability with which the Trustees of the Carnegie Institute have managed it, and the results which have so surprised and gratified me, naturally led me to beg these gentlemen to take charge of the Technical Institute and its endowment. I had only to plead that their increased labors were for the good of Pittsburgh, to be assured by everyone that I have so far had an opportunity of consulting, that they would gladly assume the enlarged responsibility.

I propose, therefore, Mr. Mayor, to include the Technical School with the Institute, and have therefore made its endowment equal to the latter.

There are many questions to decide, involving investigation, careful study and much labor; among these, whether fees should be charged, as at the Armour, Drexel, Worcester and Boston Institutes, and, in fact, I might say all the technical schools, or whether we can take a new departure and arrange that the students of the High School, for instance, should have the doors of the Technical School open to them free. This and many other questions must be left to the Commission. But I am in a position to assure you that the Commission is prepared to face the problem, and that my heart is in the work, and

WHEREAS, The Committee on Plans and Scope are ready to report to the Trustees acting under the last paragraph of the communication, and

WHEREAS, Mr. Carnegie has intimated that he will grant a further donation of a large sum of money for fully carrying out his intention, and

WHEREAS, No definite steps have been taken to secure a site for the proposed school; therefore,

Resolved, That a special Joint Committee consisting of three (3) members from Select and four (4) members from Common Councils be appointed to confer with the Trustees of the Carnegie Institute in relation to the matter of selecting and acquiring a site for the proposed Technical School.

In Common Council July 7, 1902. Passed.

Which was referred to the Committee on Filtration of Select Council.

C. C. No. 431.

To W. S. Woods, Esq., and Members of the Filtration Committee:—

Your special sub-committee to which were referred for examination and report thereon four certain ordinances in relation to the work necessary to be done for the purpose of extension and improvement of the water supply and distribution, and including the filtration of such water supply of the City of Pittsburgh, said Ordinances being S. C. Nos. 19, 20, 21 and 22 respectively, and all relating to the so-called Filtration Plant, respectfully report thereon as follows:

Said Ordinance No. 19 provides for the establishment of a Bureau of Filtration.

Said Ordinance No. 20 provides for the letting of a contract or contracts for Filters, Basins and Appurtenances, to be known as "Contract No. 1," at a cost not exceeding $1,500,000 therefor.

Said Ordinance No. 21 provides for the letting of a contract or contracts for pumping engines, to be known as "Contract No. 2," at a cost not to exceed $300,000.

Said Ordinance No. 22 provides for the letting of a contract or contracts for Filtered Water Reservoir, pipe connections, and gate houses, to be known as "Contract No. 3," at a cost not to exceed $225,000.

The total amount set apart under the last named three Ordinances for the work therein provided is the sum of $2,025,000. Accompanying these Ordinances is a communication from the Director of the Department of Public Works (S. C. No. 17) submitting estimates of the whole cost of the proposed filtration plant alone, which is estimated at the sum of $2,981,- 000 (including land). The estimate for the cost of installation of meters (about 35,000), part of said system, is $654,500. The total cost, according to said estimate, of said proposed filtration plant, including the cost of meters, is accordingly $3,635,500.

This estimate does not propose or include the cost of covering the filters, which would be not less than $600,000. While not undertaking to decide the question of the necessity of covering the filters, we yet beg to submit that the decided weight of authority is that covers would be necessary at nearly all points on and north of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers. If it should be found necessary to cover the filters, the total cost of the system is swelled to $4,235,500.

The only funds available for the cost of the work provided by said Ordinances are the proceeds of the bond issue for filtration purposes. Said bond issue amounted to $2,500,000, which was available prior to June 1, 1900. The amount of said bond issue so far expended or about to be paid upon the work of filtration, beginning June 1, 1900, down to the present, is $283,732, ($238,753 being for land), leaving at present on hand and available a balance of $2,216,268.

It thus appears that according to the estimate of the Director of the Department of Public Works, the cost of the filtration plant (without covers), including meters, will exceed the amount of money available for the purpose by $1,135,500, and if covers be necessary by $1,735,500.

This is the financial side of the situation that confronts us. Considering the matter as a business proposition, and in the light of common sense, to proceed with the work on the Filtration Plant under such conditions, without knowing or having any assurance how or from whence the enormous deficiency of money necessary for its completion shall come, if at all, the idea is appalling. The Filtration Commission estimated the total cost of the filtration plant at $2,111,360, and the cost of establishing the meter system at $600,000, making a total of $2,711,360. Upon this basis and assurance the people of the city authorized by their votes a bond issue of $2,500,000 for such filter system. Said amount of money has been available since prior to June 1st, 1900. The people of Pittsburgh have not authorized or approved the building of said filtration plant at an increased cost over the estimate of the Filtration Commission of $1,135,500 and if covers be necessary, of $1,735,500. Under such circumstances, assuming no other objection or difficulty, are we justified in proceeding further with the work? We think not. The matter is up to the people of Pittsburgh, and we believe they should be consulted and given an opportunity to express their wishes as to what they want and are willing to do in the matter.

But there are other serious and controlling objections, which dispose of these Ordinances, Nos. 20, 21 and 22. Your committee are advised and believe they are illegal and in violation of the new charter, Act of March 7th, 1901, governing the City of Pittsburgh.

After a full and careful consideration of the whole matter, and upon consultation with eminent counsel on legal points involved, we find and report that all the above Ordinances should be returned to you with negative recommendation for reasons both legal and financial, namely:

1—Because the letting of the partial contracts and expenditure of moneys as proposed in said Ordinances are in violation of the provisions of the new city charter Act of March 7th, 1901, and its supplements.

2—Because, independently of the illegality, we deem it unjustifiable, unbusinesslike, and indefensible to proceed with such an unfinished and partial undertaking in the face of a money deficit of $1,135,500 to $1,735,500, for its completion, without any assurance that the people of the city will countenance or authorize such additional expenditure.

In view of these conclusions, there is no necessity at present for the establishment of a Bureau of Filtration, and said Ordinance No. 19 falls with the rest.

We, therefore return the above Ordinances with a negative recommendation accordingly.

The Chair said:

"Gentlemen, you will please rise while the Chair makes an announcement

Council arose, and the Chair continued,

"It becomes the painful duty of the Chair to announce at this time the death of John Paul, who represented the Thirty-second ward in Select Council for a period of 18 years. He was a member of many of our most important committees, and for a long time was chairman of the Corporation committee. The clerk will read the call for this meeting."

The Clerk read the call as follows:

PITTSBURGH, September 17, 1902.

MR. E. J. MARTIN,

Clerk of Select Council.

DEAR SIR:—

Please call a Special meeting of Select Council for Thursday, September 18th, 1902, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of taking suitable action on the death of John Paul, late member of Select Council from the Thirty-second ward.

Yours respectfully,

JOHN S. LAMBIE,
President.

Which was read, received and filed.

Mr. Wainwright moved

That a committee of seven be appointed for the purpose of preparing a suitable minute on the death of Mr. Paul.

Which motion was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Wainwright, Douglas, Benz, Murphy, Upperman, Ruhlandt and Sankey.

The Chair excused the committee while it retired to prepare a suitable minute.

The Chair said

"In the absence of the committee, we will be glad to hear from anybody, whether member or not. The chair has himself invited several ex-members, who served in this body with Mr. Paul, to be present with us. Mr. Munroe has accepted, and he is here. If there are no objections we will hear from Mr. Munroe, who was a member for a long time, and was acquainted with our deceased brother, John Paul."

Mr. Munroe said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of Select Council—I consider it a great honor to be called before you to-day and be afforded the opportunity of giving my testimony to what I know of John Paul. I made his acquaintance in 1859. From that time to the present time—I should say to the time of his death—we were on intimate terms. I think I know something about Mr. Paul's life and about his career—certain features I feel called upon to speak about. Mr. Paul lived to an age exceeding the Bible description of a man's full years—Three score and ten! When I saw him last he seemed to have many years before him yet, and was hale, vigorous and hearty, but he has joined the great majority. John Paul is dead.

"John Paul. In his business relations, has been known in this city for a longer time than I have known him. I think it may be safe in saying that no more faithful, honest and trustworthy merchant could be found anywhere in the limits of the City of Pittsburgh, or even in this Commonwealth. His name was synonymous with integrity and a sense of right doing towards all mankind. During the time of his life large business interests, estates of deceased persons, were entrusted to his care, involving large sums of money, and to my own knowledge all those were faithfully conducted and acted upon, and not a blemish has been found in any of the accounts which he represented as a trustee. John Paul was a man of extraordinary kind feelings, generous to a fault, assisted those who needed assistance with a free hand, and never turned his back on any one who was in need or in distress.

"As to his career in Councils, I wish to say that whatever his actions were, they were based upon his firm convictions of what was right and wrong, and that to his mind was everything. If he favored any measure it was because he considered it right and proper, and if he failed to favor it, it was because he didn't believe it the proper thing to do. I don't believe he ever did anything in his whole career as a citizen, or as a Councilman, that he did not believe was right. I was eight or nine years with him in Council, and I had the opportunity to judge the ability he brought to bear on all questions and the integrity that he displayed cannot be questioned.

"I therefore leave you now, thanking you again for this opportunity to express my sorrow for the death of John Paul."

Mr. Wainwright presented

S. C. No. 360.

As members of the Select Council of the City of Pittsburgh, we desire to place upon record this minute upon the death of John Paul, who, since 1885, had represented the Thirty-second ward in this body. Three score years of age at the time of his entrance upon the duties of a Councilman, Mr. Paul was fortunate in that he was a man of large affairs and much experience, which circumstance, combined with a companionable nature and a cheerful disposition, made him an especially useful member to his constituents and to the community as a whole. He was methodical, painstaking and conscientious. As chairman and member of various important committees, much detail work necessarily fell to his lot, and it is proper to say that he performed this public service intelligently and thoroughly. His long service in this branch was coincident with the most important and remarkable period of the growth and development of Pittsburgh. In all this he had an influential part. A link between the earlier days of the municipality and its present proud position in the sisterhood of cities, his career in Councils was characterized by progressiveness of spirit and integrity of purpose. Sincerely mourning the loss of a colleague so firm in his friendships and so constant in his public duties, we take this means of paying deserved tribute to the memory of the deceased member from the Thirty-second ward, whose faithful service is written in enduring characters upon the municipal records of Pittsburgh.

R. H. DOUGLAS,

JOHN BENZ,

J. W. RUHLANDT,

Committee.

Which was read

Mr. Wainwright moved

The adoption of the minute.

Mr. Douglas said:

"I have had the pleasure of the acquaintance of John Paul for the last twenty-five years, and of him it is not necessary to use the old phrase: 'De mortuis nil nisi bonum.' Nobody could say, even if they wanted to, that he has not been fair in all his dealings. His was a gentle, kindly nature, and I for one, and I know that I am not the only one, but one of a thousand, will always remember his genial smile and warm heartfelt and cordial shake of the hand."

Mr. Murphy said:

"I have known John Paul for the past ten years, and from the first time I met him I loved him. He always seemed to me a fine, upright man. I have served with him on committees, and on other important matters, and I have always found him straightforward and honest in all his dealings. Select Council has certainly lost a valuable member, and will miss his counsels. The Thirty-second ward has lost a valuable man.

"I don't know that there is anything I could say but what all and every member of Select Council knows.

"I certainly feel that I have lost a friend, and I am certain that we have lost a friend."

President Lambie called Mr. Douglas to the chair.

President Lambie said

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Members:

A Scottish bard has sweetly said:

'Tis a bonnie, bonnie warl' that we're livin' in the noo,
An' sunny is the lan' we often traivel throo;

We like the gilded simmer, wi' its merry, merry tread.

An' we sigh when hoary winter lays its beauties wi' the dead;

Then, again, I've juist been thinkin' that when all things here's sae bricht.

The sun in a' its grandeur, and the mune wi' quiverin' licht.

The ocean i' the simmer, or the woodland i' the spring.

What maun it be up yonner i' the palace of the King?

And so it is. Old earth is a grand and glorious home, view her when and where you will. Is it the gentle springtime or the brilliant and splendid summer, is it the melancholy autumn or the wild and stormy winter, she is ever beautiful. Go to yonder mountain summit and then descend into that peaceful valley—look around you. The scene varies, but it is always beautiful. Go, if you will, and stand on Sinai's barren summit and view the sand hills of Arabia, it is the same. You may, if you will, take a ship and sail over the waves of old ocean until you reach the isles where summer ever reigns, still she is beautiful. In all her moods and phases, she is the same. If you could take the wings of an angel and fly through ether to yonder star which shines so brilliantly in heaven's blue vault, and turn and look back to earth, you would see her shining as gloriously as any of her starry companions that revolve in the infinity of space. From what you saw you could never form any conception of death or of the sin, sorrowing or suffering of humanity. It is indeed a bonnie, bonnie warl' that we're livin' in the noo. 'Fit home for man or gods. It is a bonnie, bonnie warl' because of the companionship we have and the opportunities afforded for doing good. We are sons and daughters of the Almighty. Created in His image, animated by His breath and endowed with a soul as immortal as Himself, having lofty anticipations and tender hearts. Capable of appreciating His greatness and goodness. The monuments of genius, power and skill of men are all around us. He has filled the air with music which seems not of earth. He has some songs befitting a heavenly choir, and spoken words which would do honor to angels. In this bonnie, bonnie warl' men have achieved wealth, honor and fame. Oft times they would gladly remain to enjoy them, but—ah, that awful but—he cannot.

It is said that shortly after the death of the Holy Father a Cardinal solemnly approaches the corpse and with a golden hammer thrice gently strikes the remains to ascertain if he be really dead. Convinced himself that such is the fact, he exclaims "Sic transit, gloria mundi, O Sanctissimus Pater." Thus passeth the glory of the world, O Most Holy Father. No station in life, though its duties be of world-wide importance, and though nations wait upon his words, no wealth, no fame, no honors, no tender and loving hearts can keep us here when the messenger comes. But one short year ago, in the 'mild September,' when myrtle and ivy were in bloom, and the leaves were beginning to fall, in this chamber we were called upon to mourn the death of another member of this body, William H. McCleary. During the year others were supposed to be on the border line and other seats expected to be vacant, but the messenger came not to them. It is again September; Spring has long since left us. The summer is dying, and our friend is dead. We do not mourn for one in the springtime of youth, nor yet for one in the glory and strength of a summer manhood. On his head the frosts of years had descended; the form was frail and the steps tottering. Years ago he had passed the allotted span of three score years and ten. When I was a schoolboy I daily passed his store and knew him then. He was then in the strength and prime of his early manhood. Well and faithfully through the intervening years has he performed the duties of life. No stain is on his fair fame. He has won the confidence and esteem of his fellows by a conscientious performance of his duty as he understood it. Uncle John Paul entered Select Council about eighteen years ago, and served continuously ever since. I had preceded him for more than seven years, and remained a member of the body during his entire term of service and still am a member. I had, therefore, every opportunity of watching his entire career. A member of some of the most important committees and chairman of our Committee on Corporations, he was intimately connected with all our legislation during his period of his service. No one dare assail his integrity or his faithfulness to public duty. His business career was marked by sturdy honesty, and he achieved a degree of success which indicated that his fellowmen fully appreciated him. Kind and affectionate in his domestic relations, and a sincere and devout Christian, he was indeed a model citizen. Let us at this solemn moment remember that a man stands or falls according to his own conscience, not according to the conscience of others. I have sometimes thought that in the wild scramble for wealth, place and power we judged each other too harshly, and are too credulous of the stories told us of those who do not entertain the same opinions or advocate the same policies we do. Suspicion and credulity beget falsehood and malice. I can truthfully say of Uncle John Paul that I never suspected or had reason to suspect his thorough integrity and sincerity of purpose. Happy will we be if at the end of our career we have as little to regret as he had. One week ago to-night he attended a meeting of the Committee on Filtration in the adjoining chamber. He greeted me and others with his accustomed cordiality. Little did we dream that death was so near. None of us saw the grim spectre that was even then close behind him, and now to-day it is all over. Earth has for him nothing more. The emoluments of business, the approbation of his friends, the honors bestowed upon him and the endearments of home are all as dreams. All things which this bonnie, bonnie warl' contained which were pleasing to the eye and dear to the heart, all her trials and disappointments, all her tears and sighing are matters of the past.

'Alone I walked the ocean strand,
A pearly shell was in my hand;
I stooped and wrote upon the sand
My name, the year and day;
As onward from the spot I passed,
One lingering look behind I cast.
A wave came rolling high and fast,
And washed my lines away.

'And so methought 'twill quickly be
With every mark on earth from me!
A wave of dark oblivion's sea
Will sweep across the place
Where I have trod the sandy shore
Of Time, and be to me no more;
Of me, my day, the name I bore,
'To leave no track or trace.

And yet with Him who counts the sands,
And holds the water in His hands,
I know a lasting record stands
Inscribed against my name.
Of all this mortal part has wrought,
Of all this thinking soul has thought,
And from these fleeting moments caught,
For glory or for shame.'

Uncle John Paul's record has been made out and is now in the hands of the Supreme Judge. I imagine that that record has no terrors for him. Errors may have crept into it, but they were errors of judgment, not of the heart. To err is human, to forgive is divine. Men's judgments are often too severe. God's judgments are as merciful as they are just. I have no doubt that the record sent up in this case will be approved and that our departed friend will dwell forever in the mansions of the Blessed. Let me conclude in the language of the beautiful Scottish hymn with which these remarks were opened:

'Its Ivory halls are bonnie upon which the rainbows shine,
And its Eden bow'rs are trellised wi' a never-fadin' Vine;
An' the pearly gates o' Heaven do a glorious radlance fling
On the starry floor that shimmers i' the palace of the King.'

We see oor friends await us over yonner
at his gate;
Then lat us a' be ready, for ye ken its getting late;

Lat oor lamps be brichtly burnin', lat's
rise oor voice and sing,
Sune we'll meet to part nae mair, i' the palace of the King!'

And the minute was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Benz presented from the Committee on Public Safety of Select Council with an affirmative recommendation,

S. C. No. 110. Communications from the Director of the Department of Public Safety asking for the passage of an ordinance providing for the letting of a contract for the erection and completion of a building to be known as a Repair Shop for the Department of Public Safety, and giving estimated cost thereof.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also

S. C. Bill No. 117. An Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance providing for the letting of a contract or contracts for the erection and completion of a building to be known as Repair Shop, Department of Public Safety."

Which was read

Mr. Douglas arose to a point of order.

"The bill having been returned with a negative recommendation by the Joint Standing Committee on Public Safety is not properly before Councils."

The Chair ruled the point of order "Not well taken."

Mr. Douglas appealed from the decision of the Chair.

The Chair called Mr. Upperman to the Chair.

Mr. Douglas said:

"No ordinance shall be finally passed unless referred to a committee and returned therefrom with an affirmative recommendation. The ordinance cannot be passed unless printed for the use of Councils, and this ordinance has no right to be printed to-day, and if it is passed it will not be legal."

Mr. Lambie said:

"If the position of the gentleman from the Twenty-first ward is correct there can be absolutely no legislation whatever if a committee reports negatively: The whole Council of the city is in the absolute hands of the committee if that position be correct. The rules say that no bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee and returned therefrom and printed for the use of the members, and when a bill is returned with a negative recommendation said bill shall be printed only upon order of either branch of Councils. If it passes the joint committee with a negative recommendation, according to the gentleman from the Twenty-first ward, we can't consider it, and that is the end of it. I don't believe the law means anything like that. It has been returned from the joint committee with a negative recommendation and referred by this Council to the committee of Select Council and affirmatively recommended by that committee. This shows the importance of the separate committees of this body. There is too much political action in Councils at present. The matter was before the committee and everybody knows that in that joint committee there is a majority of a party who chooses to call themselves Citizens.' It was referred to the Select Council committee and was returned with an affirmative recommendation, and to say that Councils can't consider it is ridiculous."

Mr. Douglas said:

"Will the Chair kindly read that rule which relates to the printing of ordinances for Council?"

The Clerk read the rule as follows:

"Rule IV., Sec. 3. No ordinance shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage as to change its original purpose."

"No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom and printed for the use of the members, and when a bill is returned from committee with a negative recommendation, said bill shall be printed only upon order of either branch of Councils."

Mr. Douglas said:

"That's the point I make that this ordinance is not properly before this Council on any reading unless it has been ordered to be printed by either branch of Councils, as the ordinance was negatively recommended by the committee."

The Chair (Mr. Upperman) said:

"The question is on an appeal from the decision of the Chair. All in favor of sustaining the appeal shall vote 'aye' when their names are called, and those in favor of sustaining the Chair shall vote 'no' when their names are called."

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

No. 413.

To the Honorable, the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

The petition of James W. Drape respectfully represents: That he is the owner of four lots of ground on Kelly street, in the Twenty-first ward of the City of Pittsburgh, which he recently purchased at sheriff's sale upon a writ against H. M. Gross et al., in which suit your petitioner was plaintiff.

The said lots of ground are vacant and unimproved, and are assessed by the assessors of the City of Pittsburgh for taxable purposes at $4,400.00. That some time prior to the said sale, the former owner, C. H. Camp, contemplated erecting on said lots of ground four brick dwelling houses, and took out a building permit for that purpose. The said buildings, however, were not erected, the said C. H. Camp finding it not possible for him to carry out his plans, and no further steps were taken toward the erection of the said houses, except the obtaining of the permit.

That the assessor of the ward subsequently returned the said lots of ground and the buildings which it was contemplated to erect, and that taxes for the year 1901 and 1902 were assessed, not only upon the lots of ground, but upon the buildings which never were erected.

Your petitioner, therefore, prays that your Honorable Bodies will take the necessary action to relieve him from the payment of taxes upon the buildings which were supposed to have been erected. He is now and at all times past ready and willing to pay the taxes upon the ground itself, and is still willing to carry out that purpose and pay the taxes upon the ground, but the Treasurer of the City of Pittsburgh refused to take the taxes upon the lots of ground and to relieve your petitioner from taxes upon the buildings and the same has now gone delinquent and the collector of delinquent taxes likewise refuses to accept the tax upon the ground.

Your petitioner, therefore, prays that your Honorable Bodies will, by ordinance, or resolution duly adopted, exonerate him from the payment of taxes on the sum of $16,000.00, being that part of the assessment covering the houses which it was intended to erect, and he will ever pray, etc.

JAS. W. DRAPE.

State of Pennsylvania,) ss.: County of Allegheny,)

James W. Drape, having been duly sworn, doth depose and say that the facts stated in the foregoing petition are true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Sworn and subscribed this } 27th day of October, 1902. } JAS. W. DRAPE.
W. C. GEARING, }
Assistant City Clerk. }

Also

No. 414.

WHEREAS, James W. Drape has presented his petition to Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, setting forth that he is the owner of four vacant lots of ground on Kelly street, in the Twenty-first ward of said city, of the assessed value of $4,400.00, and that the assessors of the City of Pittsburgh, under a misapprehension of the facts, have assessed the said lots of ground at and for the sum of $20,000.00, under the belief that there were erected thereon four two-story brick dwelling houses; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Assessors be and they are hereby directed to exonerate the said property from so much of the assessments as relate to the four two-story brick dwelling houses supposed to be erected on said property.

PITTSBURGH, October 27th, 1902.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

GENTLEMEN:

Your committee appointed to confer with the members of the trustees of the Carnegie Institute in reference to a site for the proposed technical schools to be given the city by Mr. Carnegie, beg leave to submit the following report:

In pursuance to C. C. No. 437, Resolution of Councils appointing a special committee of seven, three from Select Council and four from Common Council, to meet and confer with the trustees of the Carnegie Institute in relation to the matter of selecting and acquiring a site for the proposed technical school, the following members were appointed: Messrs. Sahner, Bole, Fitzpatrick and D. F. Crawford from the Common Council, and Messrs. Sankey, Zahniser and Walnwright from the Select Council.

The committee organized on July 21st, 1902, immediately after its appointment, by the election of Gebhart Sahner as Chairman and E. J. Martin as Secretary. At this meeting the Secretary was instructed to notify the members of the Carnegie Institute that this committee was ready to meet with them at their earliest convenience. The Secretary notified Mr. Frew, who is the Chairman of the Trustees, and received a letter from him stating that his committee was unable to meet with this committee, at the present time, but that they would be able to do so some time in September.

The committee was called together on September 19th, 1902, by notification from Mr. Frew, and met at Room 322, Carnegie building, with the Trustees of the Carnegie Institute, comprising Messrs. Stevenson, McConway, Scaife, Cohen, Lambie, C. S. Crawford, Brashear, Jackson, Church and Mellon. The Trustees and this committee decided to resolve themselves into a joint committee (the Trustees to act in an advisory capacity) for the purpose of getting such information in reference to a location of a site for the proposed technical school.

Mr. McConway, of the Plan and Scope Committee of the Carnegie Institute Trustees, offered various options on property to be used for the said technical schools. Other options were also offered for various sites during the continuance of the meetings of the committee, all of which are hereto attached and marked Exhibit "A."

At the meeting held on September 19th, a motion was made to visit the various sites, and in compliance therewith the committee visited the following proposed sites: The fifty-two acre site lying between Bayard and Allequippa streets, the eleven acre site at Forbes and Bouquet streets, the thirty-two acre site lying east of Woodlawn avenue, known as the "Magee and Flinn" property, and the twenty-one acre site at the northeast corner of Schenley Park, near the Murdoch entrance (a plan of which is hereto attached and marked Exhibit "B.") The latter site apparently met with the approval of all the members present. In view of this a committee of three was appointed from the members of the Councilmanic Committee, consisting of Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Zahniser and D. F. Crawford, to confer with the City Solicitor in reference to the legal proceedings necessary to procure a site in Schenley Park for the proposed technical school.

At a meeting of the committee, held on September 25th, 1902, the Sub-Committee appointed to confer with the City Solicitor submitted the following report: "Your sub-committee called upon the City Attorney, Mr. Carnahan, and we had the deeds of the park ground that was bought from Mrs. Schenley before us, also of the three hundred acres that was given to the city, and after reading the deeds over, Mr. Carnahan told us that he thought the consent of Mrs. Schenley would have to be obtained before we could recommend that site upon which to put the technical school. While there was a question about it, he further said he thought it was not within the jurisdiction of this municipality to purchase ground to turn over to the technical school to erect buildings, without some special legislation."

At a meeting of the committee on September 30th, 1902, by motion, a committee of three members from the Councilmanic Committee (Messrs. Fitzpatrick, D. F. Crawford and Zahniser) was appointed to confer with the City Solicitor to find out if the Councils can increase the indebtedness of the city for the purpose of purchasing a site for the technical school.

At a meeting held on October 3rd, 1902, the sub-committee of three, appointed to confer with the City Solicitor in reference to increasing the indebtedness of the city for the purpose of purchasing a site for the technical school, submitted the written opinion of the City Solicitor, which is made part of this report and marked Exhibit "C." At the same meeting, the joint committee dissolved itself, and the Councilmanic Committee extended a vote of thanks to the Trustees of the Carnegie Institute for the valuable information given and the assistance rendered in this matter.

After thoroughly going over and considering the information at hand, and in view of the financial condition of the City of Pittsburgh and its many immediate needs, this committee has decided that it would be ill advised to submit a bond issue to the vote of the people at the present time, and while your committee appreciates the proposed gift of Mr. Carnegie and desires that Pittsburgh should reap the benefits of his generosity, it does not believe that the city is in a position to incur any further increase of indebtedness for any purpose at the present time. While there is money available for the purchase or extension of parks, according to the opinion of the City Solicitor, it cannot be used for the purchase of a site for the proposed technical school, and the city could therefore purchase no property for that purpose, except by a bond issue.

It was therefore decided that the only available ground for the site that presents itself to your committee, would be the portion of Schenley Park lying at the northeast corner of the park, near the Murdoch entrance, containing twenty-one acres, more or less, which is shown upon a plan hereto attached and made part of this report, marked Exhibit "B." In pursuance to the opinion of the City Solicitor that the consent of Mrs. Schenley must be obtained before the buildings could be erected in Schenley Park, your committee would further recommend that Councils take such action as they deem right and proper for the purpose of having Mrs. Schenley so amend her deeds, or grant, of Schenley Park, so that the proposed twenty-one acre site can be used for the purposes of the technical school.

It is not the purpose of this committee that the area of the park be diminished. There is available at the present time $360,000.00, from a bond issue for the extension of parks. As before stated, according to the opinion of the City Solicitor, this money could not be used for the purpose of purchasing ground for a site for the technical school. Your committee would therefore suggest that this money be used for the purpose of acquiring as much ground adjacent to the park, for the extension thereof, as it will purchase, and your committee believes that this will act as an incentive to Mrs. Schenley to change her deeds, as the city will not be taking away any more than it will be adding to.

Your committee believes that these buildings will be of high architectural beauty and will be an embellishment to the park, and will add to the interest of the parks as much as the Phipps Conservatory, or the Highland Park zoological buildings.

All of which is respectfully submitted for your consideration.

GEBHART SAHNER, Chairman, D. F. CRAWFORD, D. J. BOLE, HENRY FITZPATRICK,	} Committee.

HOTEL CECIL, London, W. C.

I am willing to sell and convey by deed in fee simple to the City of Pittsburgh, a municipal corporation of the State of Pennsylvania, United States of America, certain real estate, situate in the Fourteenth ward of said city, for the considerations and the purposes hereinafter named, that is to say:

I will sell and convey to said city the fee simple title to that certain piece of real estate, situate in the ward and city aforesaid, which is bounded on the west by Bouquet street, on the north by Allequippa street and Center avenue, on the east by an imaginary line extending from the end of St. Pierre street to Center avenue (this line to be definitely adjusted hereafter by me in such manner as not to interfere with the proper laying out of my property between it and Grant Boulevard) and on the south by Bayard street; the consideration therefor to be five hundred and fifty thousand ($550,000.00) dollars, and the use of said property to be limited to park or educational purposes. The above described real estate consists of thirty-one acres, more or less.

I am willing to sell and convey by deed in fee simple to said City of Pittsburgh, all that real estate situate in said ward of said city, which is bounded on the west by Bouquet street, on the north by Allequippa street and Center avenue, on the east by Grant Boulevard, and on the south by Bayard street, consisting of fifty-two acres, more or less, for the consideration of one million and four hundred thousand ($1,400,000.00) dollars, the use thereof to be limited to park or educational purposes.

The designation, however, by me herein as a boundary line, of any street not opened on the ground, shall not be construed to mean that I include any part of such street in this agreement to sell and convey. On the contrary, I reserve to myself the ground in such street or streets, if there be any such.

This, my option to the City of Pittsburgh, is open to said city until and including January 1, 1903. If said city shall not, on or before January 1, 1903, have accepted the same and the deed or deeds for said pieces of real estate, or either, shall not have been made and delivered on or before said date, this option shall thereupon cease and determine.

I am informed that the City of Pittsburgh desires to obtain the title to the one or other of the pieces of real estate above described, and that the intention is to use the same for park or educational purposes. I am interested in the welfare of said city and its people, and it is in consideration of these premises that I give this option.

I do, therefore, in consideration of the above, and of the sum of one dollar this day paid to me by said City of Pittsburgh, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, agree for myself, my heirs, executors and administrators, and do bind myself, my heirs, executors and administrators to sell and convey, as I have above stated, upon performance by the City of Pittsburgh, of the conditions above set forth.

Witness my hand and seal, in the City of London, England, this twelfth day of May, A. D. 1902.

Plan of proposed site for technical school.

EXHIBIT "C."

To the Committee of Councils Appointed to Recommend a Site for a Polytechnical School:

GENTLEMEN:

You submit to me this question:

Has the city the right to borrow money for the purchase of a site for a Polytechnic School and to issue bonds therefor without the assent of the people given at a popular election?

In other words:

(1.) Has the city the right to purchase a site for a polytechnic school such as is proposed by Mr. Carnegie?

(2.) Has the city the right to raise money in payment therefor by the issue of bonds without the assent of the people given at a popular election?

My answer to the first question is this:

Fifteen years ago the better opinion seemed to be that the city had no such right, and when Mr. Carnegie's proposition to donate a free library was presented, it was deemed advisable to obtain an Act of Assembly empowering cities to accept such gifts and to make annual appropriations for their maintenance. Such an Act was passed and approved May 23rd, 1887. This Act is no authority for the purchase by the city of a site for the school now proposed; but, since its passage, additional light has been thrown upon the subject by the Judiciary of the State, so that, at the present time, the better opinion is that a municipality has the right, unless expressly prohibited by the Constitution or by the statute laws, to do such things as will inure to the benefit and welfare of the city at large and its trade, commerce and manufactures. It was so held by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of "The Provisional Committee of the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship Canal vs. The City of Pittsburgh," reported in 183 Pennsylvania State Reports, page 202. In that case the City of Pittsburgh had appropriated $10,000 for surveys and obtaining information as to whether a ship canal between Pittsburgh and Lake Erie was practicable and would be a benefit to the city. The City Controller declined to issue his certificate for a warrant in payment of the same, but was compelled to do so in response to a peremptory mandamus issued by the Court, which action was sustained by the Supreme Court on the ground that the purpose for which the appropriation was made "was certainly not foreign to the material interests and general prosperity of the municipality, but quite the contrary."

Would the purchase of such a site be in violation of any provision of the Constitution? The only provision bearing upon this question is contained in Section 7, Article 9, of the Constitution, which is in these words:

"The General Assembly shall not authorize any county, city, borough, township or incorporated district to become a stockholder in any company, association or corporation, or to obtain or appropriate money, or loan its credit to any corporation, association, institution or individual."

This section, as the courts have repeatedly said, has reference to business partnerships "between a municipality or subordinate division of the State, individuals or private corporations or associations. * * * In no project originated by individuals, whether associated or otherwise, with a view to gain, are the municipal bodies named permitted to participate in such manner as to incur pecuniary expense or liability."

It, therefore, does not appear to me that there is any constitutional prohibition against the purchase of a site for such a purpose, nor does there seem to be any statutory prohibition. On the contrary, the Charter Act of 1901, for cities of the second class authorizes such cities "to make all such ordinances, by-laws, rules and regulations not inconsistent with the Constitution or laws of this Commonwealth as may be expedient or necessary in addition to the special powers in this section granted for the proper management, care and control of the city and its finances, and the maintenance of the peace, good government and welfare of the city, and its trade, commerce and manufactures." * * *

If the establishment of such a school is not "foreign to the material interests and general prosperity of the municipality," but on the contrary would tend to promote its interests and general welfare, the city has the right to purchase such a site for such a purpose. Believing that the establishment and maintenance of such a school would greatly promote the interests and welfare of the city, I am of the opinion that the city has the right to purchase a site for it.

The provision of the Constitution which bears upon the second question proposed is contained in Section 8, Article 9, which is as follows:

"The debt of any city, county, borough, township, school district or other municipal pality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate at any one time upon such valuation."

In no case can a city voluntarily incur an indebtedness in excess of seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein. Any city may incur a new debt to an amount not exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors. This may be done at once or at successive periods, but the now existing indebtedness created by the city without a vote of the people since the adoption of the Constitution must not aggregate more than two per centum.

In ascertaining the indebtedness of the city, the bonds of the city purchased and placed in the sinking fund should be deducted from the gross indebtedness; no other asset in the sinking fund, such as money or bonds other than those of the city, should be deducted. If it be found that of the present net indebtedness of the city less than two per centum of the last preceding assessed valuation was created by the city without a vote of the people, the city still has the right without a vote of the people to increase it up to the limit of two per centum, provided it does not exceed seven per centum by so doing. In other words, the city since 1874, may have increased the indebtedness more than two per centum without a vote of the people, but it may have subsequently reduced that indebtedness to an amount below two per centum. If such be the fact, it has still the right to add to the debt, without a vote of the people, until it reaches two per centum of the last preceding assessed valuation. Beyond the two per centum no increase of indebtedness can be made without a vote and the assent of the people. If the entire indebtedness of the city were paid off, the city could again increase its indebtedness to the amount of two per centum, without a vote of the people, and beyond that to seven per centum, with a vote of the people.

The assessed valuation may, and does, vary each year. Two per centum this year may be considerably less in amount than two per centum next year; so that, even if there were no reduction of indebtedness, in the meanwhile, by the purchase of outstanding city bonds, or otherwise, it is quite possible for a municipality to have reached its constitutional limit of two per centum one year, and the next year to be within such limit.

In the case of Keller vs. Scranton, reported in 202 Pennsylvania State Reports, page 586, it appeared that the debt of the city of Scranton was more than two per centum of the assessed valuation. The city undertook to increase its indebtedness without a vote of the electors, and upon a bill in equity for an injunction the Court of Common Pleas of Lackawanna county granted an injunction on the ground that the city "had no right to increase the present indebtedness without first obtaining the consent of the electors." This decree was reversed by the Supreme Court because of the existing indebtedness. That portion created by the city without a vote of the electors was less than two per centum, although the total indebtedness exceeded two per centum; and it was held that the city had still the right to increase its indebtedness without a vote of the people up to the aggregate limit of two per centum. And it was also held in that case that the order in which the two powers may be exercised, namely, the power to create a debt not exceeding in the aggregate two per centum without a vote of the people, and the power to exceed two per centum with a vote of the people, was not material—that what the section was concerned with was the amount of the indebtedness in each class, not the order in which it was incurred. I quote from the opinion of Mr. Justice Mitchell in that case:

"The words of the section with which we are directly concerned are 'Nor shall any municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the assent of the electors thereof.'"

"This, though a limitation on the power of creating debt, is also a recognition of its existence. The power to raise and spend money for public purposes is a necessary attribute of all governments, and in our system has always been exercised by the legislative branch of municipalities under such regulations as the Legislature of the State has prescribed. The constitutional provision puts a limit on the power, and on the Legislature's authority to confer it, but at the same time is a recognition of the power as exercised by the municipalities. Hitherto it had been without limit, not only as to amount of expenditure, but also as to time and mode of payment; it is still without limit as to amount of expenditure, if paid or means of payment provided at the time, but beyond two per cent. of assessed value, it cannot be authorized as a debt for the future without the assent of the electors obtained at a public election. The result of the provision is that the municipal authorities, charged with the raising and spending of public money incident to the current expenses of the government, still have the same power they have always hitherto had as to the creation of public debt up to the two per cent. limit, and the same power to the further limit of seven per cent. if authorized by a vote of the electors. The immediate necessity for money in the administration of the municipality's affairs may vary from day to day and the mode of meeting it was not intended to be taken out of the discretion of the ordinary municipal authorities, up to the prescribed limit, fixed as sufficient to provide for ordinary requirements. But when an extraordinary occasion or demand arises, requiring more than two per cent., then the assent of the voters must be obtained, and it will be sufficient up to the prescribed limit of seven per cent. The order in which these two powers may be exercised is not prescribed, and it is not material. What the section is concerned with is the amount of the indebtedness of each class, not the order in which it is incurred.

"It was found as a fact by the learned Judge below, that at the time the ordinance in question was passed, the debt of the city was more than two per cent. of the assessed value of taxable property therein, but that part of the debt had been duly authorized by a vote of the electors, and if this were deducted from the gross amount, the remainder, created by the Councils without special authorization by the electors, might be increased by the estimated debt to be incurred under the ordinance, without reaching the two per cent. limit. Under such circumstances the debt was within the authority of Councils and the ordinance valid."

I am aware of the fact that in the case of Pepper et al. vs. The City of Philadelphia, reported in 181 Pennsylvania State Reports, page 566, Chief Justice Sterrett, in delivering the opinion of the Court, made use of certain language which, taken apart from the facts of the case, would indicate that the city having, since 1874, once created an indebtedness up to the limit of two per centum without a vote of the people, never could again authorize any indebtedness without such vote, even though the indebtedness thus created were subsequently met and paid in full. The language I refer to is this:

"It is enough to know that the language of the eighth section permits a debt to be created by municipal authority to the limited extent only of two per cent. on the assessed value of the taxable property. That permission is a unit. When once exercised its object is fully accomplished, the express limit of the municipal debt thus created or increased is established, and it remains thus established, simply because there is no further authority for its change. The question whether there may be a subsequent increase by a popular vote is not before us and of course we do not decide it. But it is entirely clear that after the two per cent. limit has been reached, there can be no further increase by municipal authority only. * * * In all the cases * * * we have adhered to the proposition that the increase of two per cent. authorized to be made by the second clause of the eighth section may not be transcended except by a popular vote, and this whether the increase has been made by successive additions, each less than two per cent., or at one time and by one municipal act alone. We have not allowed this percentage of increase to be exceeded in any instance by mere municipal action."

The above quoted language was used in discussing the question whether a city could, by successive increases, each less than two per centum, create an indebtedness up to seven per centum without a vote of the people, and it was there held, as in all other cases upon the subject, that the aggregate net indebtedness so created since 1874 must not exceed two per centum. In that case it was also held "that, if a city whose indebtedness then (at the time of the adoption of the Constitution) exceeded the seven per cent. limit, subsequently reduced her debt below that limit, she at once passed into the category of all the other cities of the Commonwealth, and thereafter could only create or increase her indebtedness in the same manner that they could."

The city of Philadelphia had an indebtedness in excess of seven per centum at the time of the adoption of the Constitution. It was authorized by statutes to increase its indebtedness three per centum in accordance with the constitutional provision. This it did; but subsequently reduced its indebtedness so that the net amount was much less than seven per centum. It thereupon, as appears in the case of Pepper vs. City of Philadelphia, increased its indebtedness again without a vote of the people much more than two per centum, although at the time of the various increases, the net indebtedness so created was, of course, less than two per centum; and, in the case last referred to, it was recognized by all parties that the city still had the right to increase its indebtedness without a vote of the people to the amount of nearly $400,000.00, because its then existing net indebtedness so created was that much less than two per centum of the last preceding assessed valuation on January 1st, 1897. The corporate authorities, however, without a public election, had authorized loans to the amount of $11,000,000, and as this sum, added to the then existing net indebtedness, incurred without a popular vote, would exceed two per centum, they were restrained from further proceeding.

I am of opinion that if, of the present net indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh, less than two per centum of the last preceding assessed valuation was since the adoption of the Constitution, January 1, 1874, created by the city, without a vote of the people, it has the right to increase its indebtedness without a vote of the people until the aggregate amount of such increase or increases reaches two per centum of the last preceding assessed valuation, provided such increase, added to the total net indebtedness, does not exceed seven per centum.

This is in accordance with the Constitution, the Act of April 20, 1874 and its supplements, and the Charter Act of 1901.

If the city has the right to so increase its indebtedness, it, of course, has also the right to issue bonds up to the limit indicated, without a vote of the people.

Very respectfully,

T. D. CARNAHAN,
City Solicitor.

PITTSBURGH, October 3, 1902.

The Chair presented

No. 432.

CITY RECORDER'S OFFICE,

PITTSBURGH, November 20, 1902.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

I respectfully return herewith, without my approval, Resolution S. C. No. 426. in which the Attorney General of the Commonwealth is "requested to grant the citizens of the Thirteenth ward of the city the use of the name of the Commonwealth in a bill in equity to be by them filed to test the legality of the erection of the new Municipal Hospital."

The question which it is proposed to raise by bill in equity is not an open question. It has already been decided by the Supreme Court of the State that those in charge of any hospital have the right to increase their hospital facilities by enlarging their buildings, or erecting new buildings, on a site already occupied and used for hospital purposes. This is what the city is now undertaking to do.

I do not think that the City of Pittsburgh should ask the Attorney General to disregard the decision of the Supreme Court by granting his consent to the use of the name of the Commonwealth in a proceeding to set aside a contract deliberately made by the City of Pittsburgh—especially a contract for such an improvement as the one now contemplated for which there is an imperative demand by the public.

Respectfully submitted,

J. O. BROWN,

City Recorder.

Which was read, received and filed.

And

S. C. No. 426.

Resolved, That the Attorney General of the Commonwealth be hereby respectfully requested to grant the citizens of the Thirteenth ward of the city the use of the name of the Commonwealth in a bill in equity to be by them filed, to test the legality of the erection of the new Municipal Hospital.

Was read.

And on the question, "Shall the resolution be adopted notwithstanding the objections of the City Recorder?"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

AYES—Messrs.

Atkinson	Kearns	Schlernitzauer
Barry	Lang	Schneider

Gallagher	Schempp	Zahniser

Murphy, President Pro Tem.

AYES—28.

And there being three-fifths of the votes of Select Council in the affirmative, the resolution was adopted, notwithstanding the objections of the City Recorder.

And the Clerk was directed to message the same to Common Council for concurrence.

No 433.

CITY RECORDER'S OFFICE,

PITTSBURGH, November 20, 1902.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

I respectfully return herewith, without my approval, Resolution S. C. No. 427, which authorizes and directs the City Solicitor "to withdraw the objections of the City of Pittsburgh, by him filed with the Attorney General against the granting the use of the name of the Commonwealth in a bill of equity to be filed by citizens of the Thirteenth ward to restrain the city from proceeding with the erection of a Municipal Hospital in said ward, and further authorizes and directs the Director of the Department of Public Safety "to have the work on the new hospital buildings suspended until the legality of the erection of said hospital be determined by the Courts."

The City of Pittsburgh, by its duly constituted authorities, provided a fund for the erection of this hospital and directed the City Recorder and the Director of the Department of Public Safety to advertise for bids and award a contract for the erection of the same. The contract has been awarded, and the contractors are now at work on the ground, endeavoring to carry out the provisions of their contract. The City of Pittsburgh has no right to throw obstructions in their way, by suspending work, or otherwise, and should it undertake to do so it would, of course, subject itself to a suit for damages by the contractors.

The matter is now before the Attorney General on a petition of certain citizens of the Thirteenth ward. If, in the opinion of the Attorney General, the question be a proper one to present to the courts, I have no doubt that he will consent to the use of the name of the Commonwealth in the proposed equity proceeding.

Permit me to say further that I am informed that the very question which the Thirteenth ward citizens propose to raise in their bill in equity has already been decided by the Supreme Court of the State adversely to their contention and that it would be useless to contend in court now in the face of the decision of the Supreme Court to the contrary, that the City of Pittsburgh cannot enlarge its hospital accommodations on a site which it has owned, occupied, and used for more than twenty-five years for the very purposes for which it is proposed to use the buildings now under contract. The necessities of the public demand that the hospital facilities be enlarged, and that the work be done speedily.

I am unable to see how such equity proceeding as is proposed can result in anything but delay, and I am unwilling that the City of Pittsburgh should deliberately make itself a party to such delay.

Respectfully submitted,

J. O. BROWN,

City Recorder.

Which was read received and filed.

And

S. C. No. 427.

Whereas, The citizens of the Thirteenth ward, Pittsburgh, have applied to the Attorney General of the State for leave to use the name of the Commonwealth in a bill in equity to be filed by the citizens of said ward to test the legality of the erection of the new Municipal Hospital for contagious diseases in the Thirteenth ward, Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, The City Solicitor of the City of Pittsburgh is opposing said application; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Solicitor be hereby authorized and directed to withdraw the objections of the City of Pittsburgh, by him filed with the Attorney General against the granting the use of the name of the Commonwealth in the bill to be filed by the citizens of said ward; and that the Director of the Department of Public Safety be authorized and directed to have the work on the new hospital buildings suspended until the legality of the erection of the said hospital be determined by the courts.

Was read.

Mr. West called up

C. C. Bill No. 581. An Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance repealing an Ordinance entitled 'An Ordinance authorizing the widening and opening of Diamond str. (or alley,) from Smithfield street to the east side of the Diamond Market square, and the assessment of damages caused by the grade of the same.' Approved January 13, 1899."

In Common Council November 10, 1902. Passed.

In Select Council November 17, 1902. Rule suspended, bill read a second and third times and failed to pass for want of a legal majority of votes.

Which was read.

The Chair presented

No. 434.

To the President and Members of Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

I have in my possession a paper signed by the owners of property abutting upon Diamond street between Smithfield street and the Diamond Market, in which they agree not to file exceptions in Court to the Viewers' Report on the widening of Diamond street and not to appeal therefrom.

The total amount of damages allowed is $747,300.00. This entire amount, with the exception of $12,894.86, which sum is assessed against the city, is assessed as special benefits against the owners of property on the street. The parties who have signed the paper referred to are all against whom special benefits have been assessed. The amount of special benefits assessed against them is $550,223.97, which is 74 92-100 per cent. of the total special benefits assessed against private property owners. These parties accept the Viewers' Report.

As to the other assessments of special benefits contained in the report appeals have thus far been taken in court amounting to $167,633.13. The parties who have taken these appeals are, of course, not satisfied with the assessments against them. The fact that they have taken appeals does not necessarily mean that they will not have to pay these assessments; it is possible that they may succeed in reducing their amounts, and it is also possible to increase their amounts. In other words, the question as to the amount of special benefits which should be assessed against them is left open to be determined by jury trials. If the parties who are allowed damages succeed in increasing their damages by appeals, I do not see why the parties who have taken appeals from their benefit assessments should not pay these increased damages, provided it appears at the trials of their appeals that their special benefits exceed the amounts assessed.

There may be further appeals to-day, both as to benefits and as to damages. So far as damages are concerned, the city is prepared to try any appeal that may be taken. So far as benefits are concerned, the entire amount of benefits appealed from cannot exceed 26 per cent. of the total amount assessed.

In view of the above statement of facts, I think the improvement should proceed. The paper signed by the property holders in which they agree not to file exceptions or take appeals is conditioned upon the city proceeding promptly with the widening of the street. I see no reason why the city should not do so. It will probably never hereafter be able to make this improvement at so little expense to the city as now. The great majority of property owners on the line of the proposed improvement have acted fairly in the matter and, of course, they expect the city to act fairly towards them. I hope, therefore, that the repealing ordinance will not be passed; I believe it will be to the interests of the city not to pass it.

Very respectfully,

T. D. CARNAHAN,

City Solicitor.

The petition of George F. Roth respectfully represents that he is the owner of one acre of ground in the Thirty-eighth ward of the City of Pittsburgh, and that in proceedings, In re Sewer Construction, Sylvania, Hernd street et al. The City of Pittsburgh constructed a sewer along an alley way (unnamed) and has charged your petitioner with the cost and expenses of the same. Petitioner avers that he is not the owner of the property abutting on the alley where the sewer was constructed, but that Thomas S. Maple is the owner thereof, your petitioner's line of property does not extend within ten (10) feet of the line of the improvement, as is shown by the sketch attached hereto, marked "Exhibit A," and which said state of facts is also apparent by the plans on file in the Register's Office of the City of Pittsburgh.

Petitioner further avers that it is plainly manifest that the Board of Viewers made a mistake in assessing him with the cost of said sewer construction, and the same is now a charge upon his land. Petitioner avers that he was not informed of the existence of, or any purpose on the part of the Viewers to make any assessment against him for the sewer construction aforesaid, until a claim for collection was presented to him by the City Solicitor, wherefore petitioner prays that inasmuch as a great injustice has been done him in the premises that your honorable body will by appropriate resolution, recommend to the Councils of the City of Pittsburgh an exoneration from said assessment charged, and further direct the City Solicitor to satisfy of record the claim against petitioner and the property affected, and he will ever pray.

To the Honorable, the Members of Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

The petition of John Wilson respectfully represents:

That on the 8th day of June, 1899, he purchased from August Welsh et ux. all that certain lot or piece of ground, situate in the Borough of Beltzhoover (now the Thirty-eighth ward of the City of Pittsburgh), Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, being lot number four hundred and sixty-nine (469) in McLain & Maples plan of lots, of record in Plan Book, Vol. 5, Page 298, said lot fronting on Sylvania avenue (formerly Sixth street) twenty-five (25) feet and extending back one hundred twenty-seven feet to an alley.

That your petitioner is a resident of Washington, Pennsylvania;

That when the said Borough of Beltzhoover was annexed to, and became the Thirty-eighth ward of the City of Pittsburgh, your petitioner, by reason of his being a non-resident of the City of Pittsburgh, did not receive notice, and was not aware that it was necessary to have his deed registered in the office provided for that purpose by said city;

That your petitioner has paid all city taxes assessed against him, the said John Wilson, for the years 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901, as shown by Exhibit "A" hereto annexed, amounting to the sum of $26 81;

That your petitioner had been assessed by the Borough of Beltzhoover as the owner of said lot No. 469; but a short time ago discovered that he was assessed by the City of Pittsburgh for, and paying taxes on lot No. 449 in said plan and ward, which is owned by one Patrick Kenney, and that your petitioner's lot, to-wit: No. 469 has been assessed to "Unknown Owner 2;" ever since said Borough became part of the said City of Pittsburgh, and by reason thereof, the city taxes for the years 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901, assessed against lot No. 469, in the name of Unknown Owner 2, have not been paid, and are entered of record in the Prothonotary's office in the Court House as follows:

1898, Unknown Owner 2, 1503 entered December Term, 1899.....	$ 9 01
1899, Unknown Owner 2, 1383 entered December Term, 1900.....	9 69

1901, Unknown Owner 2, Del. Tax Collector's Office.....	7 98

Total$38 71

That your petitioner, as before stated, has paid all city taxes assessed in his name, and that if he is compelled to pay the taxes now delinquent and of record as above stated, an injustice will be done him, and he, therefore, prays that your honorable body will authorize and direct the City Solicitor of said City of Pittsburgh to satisfy or causes to be satisfied the above liens on the record and charge the costs thereof to the City of Pittsburgh, upon the payment by John Wilson of the difference between what he has already paid, as shown by Schedule "A" hereto annexed, and the amount assessed against his lot, to-wit: No. 469, being the sum of $11.90.

JOHN WILSON.

Personally appeared before me, the undersigned authority, John Wilson, who, having been duly sworn according to law, says that the statements contained in the foregoing petition are true and correct to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Mr. Wainwright presented from the Special Committee appointed in relation to the proposed raising of the bridges over the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers the following as the report of the committee:

No. 521.

Whereas, The United States government has now under consideration a question which involves the raising of the various bridges over the Allegheny river, connecting the City of Pittsburgh with the City of Allegheny and other territory on the north side of said river, having doubtless in view the improvement of the river hereafter for purposes of navigation; and

Whereas, It is apparent that if the Allegheny river were so improved as to enlarge the facilities of navigation, such improvement, if not made at a burdensome expense to this city and its people would inure to their interest and welfare, depending, in degree, upon the extent of such improvement; and

Whereas, It is contended, in behalf of certain interests, that in order to successfully carry into effect the project of improving said river for purposes of navigation, it is necessary that the bridges connecting the City of Pittsburgh with the territory on the north side of the river, be so raised from their present heights, which are from thirty (30) to thirty-five (35) feet (varying according to the particular bridge) above pool water of six (6) feet, to a height of fifty (50) feet above such stage of water, and in the case of the Union bridge to a greater height; and

Whereas, It would reasonably seem to follow that if one bridge (for instance the Sixth street bridge) is to be raised to such height, the others should be so raised, otherwise the improvement sought would in a great measure be ineffectual; and

Whereas, It is the judgment of the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh that whether the said bridges be raised at the ends or approaches, or arched from the ends or approaches, great inconvenience would thereby result to the public and the immense traffic which now passes over these highways would be very seriously interfered with; and

Whereas, It would be absolutely impracticable to raise the approaches of some of the bridges, and it is even questionable whether any of said bridges could be arched and adapted to public use without a change in the approaches, which would mean more or less damage to the owners of abutting property; therefore,

Resolved, That it is the judgment of the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh, not overlooking the desirability and importance of improving the river, that any interference with the said bridges, or any of them, forming, as they do, vast highways for public travel, trade and commerce, would be inadvisable, at the present time, and the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh do hereby protest to the United States government against any such interference, as injurious to the interests of this city and its people.

Resolved further, That the City Clerk be and he is hereby instructed to deliver to the proper officer, or officers, of the United States government, a duly certified copy of this resolution and protest.

JOSEPH C. WASSON, Chairman
J. P. SHAW,
W. H. STEVENSON,
WM. E. SANKEY,
S. J. WAINWRIGHT, JR.

Which was read.

Mr. Benz presented as a minority report No. 522.

Whereas, The government of the United States, contemplating the improvement of the Allegheny river for purposes of navigation, has now under consideration the question whether the bridges which cross the Allegheny river and connect the City of Pittsburgh with the north side of said river are obstructions to navigation, and whether, if found to be obstructions, the owners of said bridges should be required to raise them; and

Whereas, The City of Pittsburgh is interested in any project looking to the improvement of the Allegheny river for purposes of navigation regarding such improvement as largely beneficial to the interests and welfare of said city and its people; therefore,

Resolved, That it is the sense of the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh that any movement which tends to such improvement of the Allegheny river should be encouraged, and if the United States government is of opinion that said bridges are an obstruction to navigation and should be raised, the City of Pittsburgh should not undertake to discourage such project.

Resolved further, That the City Clerk be and he is hereby instructed to deliver to the proper officer or officers of the United States government a duly certified copy of this resolution.

JOHN BENZ,
CHAS. C. SCHAD.

Mr. Benz: "I desire the Clerk to read a communication from Captain William L. Sibert, United States engineer."

The Clerk read
No. 523.

MR. W. C. GEARING,
Clerk of Committee of Councils Considering the Question of Raising Bridges, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Your notice that the aforesaid committee will meet in the City Clerk's Office, Wednesday afternoon, January 14, 1903, at 3 o'clock, has been received. This office has no desire to take any part in the proceedings at the meeting of such committee, it being a subordinate office of the War Department and not having authority to speak definitely on any subject that will be considered.

The government of the United States has exclusive jurisdiction of the navigable waterways of this country. The extent and nature of such jurisdiction has been specified in laws enacted by the Congress of the United States. Between low water lines this jurisdiction is complete. On the banks between low water line and ordinary high water line a concurrent jurisdiction exists. The owners of the banks of the stream have complete control of such banks for all purposes that do not interfere with the use of the stream for the purpose of navigation. The United States has the right to decide whether or not any use of the banks interferes with such navigation.

In the matter of raising the bridges, the United States has called for certain clear heights and lengths of span only; has specified no method of approach and no limiting grades on such approach. All such matters are left necessarily to the bridge company and the city since the city owns the wharves and streets. The city, therefore, has complete control of that phase of the subject.

The best solution of the question is desired by the United States and when all preliminary proceedings have been gone through with and the order is given to raise the bridges and the Sixth Street Bridge Company undertakes to solve the problem, I am confident that the three parties at interest—the United States, the City of Pittsburgh and the Bridge Company—can, by working in unison, arrive at a plan that will be satisfactory to all, a plan that will not change the present line of travel across the Sixth street bridge and a plan connected with which there will be no grades greater than 4 per cent.

The following is a copy of the law under which the hearings are held:

"Section 18. (River and Harbor Act, March 3, 1899). *That whenever the Secretary of War shall have good reason to believe that any railroad or other bridge now constructed, or which may hereafter be constructed, over any of the navigable waterways of the United States, is an unreasonable obstruction to the free navigation of such waters on account of insufficient height, width of span, or otherwise, or where there is difficulty in passing the draw opening or the draw span of such bridge by rafts, steamboats, or other water craft, it shall be the duty of the said Secretary, first giving the parties reasonable opportunity to be heard, to give notice to the persons or corporations owning or controlling such bridge so to alter the same as to render navigation through or under it reasonably free, easy and unobstructed; and in giving such notice he shall specify the changes recommended by the Chief of Engineers that are required to be made, and shall prescribe in each case a reasonable time in which to make them. If at the end of such time the alteration has not been made, the Secretary of War shall forthwith notify the United States district attorney for the district in which such bridge is situated, to the end that the criminal proceedings hereinafter mentioned may be taken. If the persons, corporation, or association owning or controlling any railroad or other bridge shall, after receiving notice to that effect, as heretofore required, from the Secretary of War, and within the time prescribed by him wilfully fail or refuse to remove the same or to comply with the lawful order of the Secretary of War in the premises, such persons, corporation, or association shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, and every month such persons, corporation or association shall remain in default in respect to the removal or alteration of such bridge shall be deemed a new offense, and subject the persons, corporation, or association so offending to the penalties above prescribed: Provided, That in any case arising under the provisions of this section an appeal or writ of error may be taken from the district courts or from the existing circuit courts direct to the Supreme Court either by the United States or by the defendants."*

Very respectfully,

WM. L. SIBERT,
Captain, Corps of Engineers.

Mr. Douglas presented

No. 540,

To the City Councils, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Whereas, By a recent decision of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, the present ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh directed towards the abatement of the smoke nuisance within the city, has been declared to be ineffective and incapable of enforcement;

And, Whereas, Careful students of the smoke problem in large cities, and expert engineers and firemen have repeatedly given their unqualified opinion that it is possible to prevent to a great degree the emission of black smoke from chimneys of manufactories and buildings equipped with boiler plants, and that such prevention means more nearly perfect consumption of fuel and therefore a saving to the consumer, thus entailing no hardship, but, on the contrary, productive of benefit to him as well as to the public;

And, Whereas, The consensus of opinion, based on scientific investigation and experiment, indicates that it is possible for Pittsburgh, without interference with its multiple industries, to be a clean city, practically free of its present cloud of smoke, which is alike a menace to health and life and detrimental to cleanliness and beauty; therefore,

Be it resolved, That this committee, representative of twenty-five hundred women of the County of Allegheny, expresses its approval of the action of the city in endeavoring to enforce said ordinance and in following it to the higher legal tribunal; and the decision of that body being adverse,

Resolved, further, That we hereby express our earnest hope that another ordinance to prevent the emission of black smoke within the city limits will promptly be enacted and enforced; that the city will, by courageous and effective remedial legislation, carried out through its proper departments, rid itself of the smoke nuisance, and that we pledge our hearty support to the representatives of the city in every well directed effort they may make toward that end.

"Mr. President—I wish to present the report of the committee, consisting of the engineers of the railroad companies and the city engineer on the elevation on Duquesne way. This report was handed to me only about twenty minutes ago by one of the clerks of the Director of Public Works Office."

Mr. Upperman presented

No. 550.

Office Department of Public Works,
Pittsburgh January 26, 1903.

To the Committee on Corporations of Select Council:

Gentlemen:—

I transmit herewith report of Engineers appointed to consider the Duquesne crossing of the Wabash and Pennsylvania railroads.

Very respectfully.

J. GUY McCANDLESS,

Director Department of Public Works.

PITTSBURGH, PA., January 13, 1903.

To the Committee on Corporations of Select Council:

Gentlemen:—

Pursuant to your resolution of December 18, 1902, referring to difference between the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, at Duquesne way, and at the request of the Director of the Department of Public Works, I met with the Engineers of the respective companies. It was then and there agreed that at the crossing of the two railroads that the elevation of the top of the rail of the Pennsylvania Railroad should not be less than 739 feet above the tide level, Pennsylvania railroad datum, and that the bottom of the girder or truss of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad should be at an elevation of not less than 756 feet above said datum. And it is also recommended that the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company be permitted to place such supports on the wharf to carry its bridge, as may be necessary, as shown upon a plan hereto attached, which plan has been approved by the Director of Public Works and the Engineers of the railroad companies; and has become part of this agreement.

W. R. BROWNE, for City of Pittsburgh.

We concur in the above.

THOMAS RODD, for Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

J. W. PATTERSON, Chief Engineer Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad.

Which was read.

Mr. Upperman moved

The adoption of the report.

The Chair said:

"I understand it is the desire of Councils to take up the Wabash and Pennsylvania ordinances to-day, and believe it will be necessary to act upon this report before we could act intelligently on these ordinances. Why don't you return the ordinances with it?"

Mr. Upperman said:

"I will return the ordinances upon the adoption of the report."

Mr. Costello said:

"This Council is not aware of any committee being appointed for the purpose of arbitrating differences between the Wabash and the Pennsylvania Railroads, therefore when this ordinance comes up we do not need that report. It is not necessary. This body does not know anything about it."

Mr. Douglas arose to a point of order:

"This report is not properly before Council. The committee hasn't been appointed by Councils, and does not report here primarily, but to the Committee that appointed it."

Mr. Upperman said:

"In order to facilitate matters, I offered this report to Council. I don't care what you do with it."

Mr. Douglas said:

"I object to facilitating matters in this way. The gentleman from the Fifteenth ward has undertaken to set aside all parliamentary precedent and without taking a vote. This committee making this report was appointed by a Committee from this Council, and must make its report to that Committee. I know the gentleman from the Fifteenth ward is one of the ablest parliamentarians in this Council, having had long experience in parliamentary bodies, and he knows just as well as he is living that that Committee should report to the Committee that originated it. It has no business here until it reports to that Committee. I stand on that point of order."

The Chair said:

"I have made up my mind on the subject, but am willing to hear anything that may be said by either party before deciding."

Mr. Upperman said:

"The only object was to get the ordinances before this body, and I now withdraw that report from Council."

Mr. Upperman presented from the Committee on Corporations of Select Councils with an affirmative recommendation

C. C. Bill No. 640. An Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance granting certain rights, privileges and franchises to the Pittsburgh, Carnegie and Western Railroad Company, its lessees, successors and assigns."

In Common Council December 6, 1902. Passed.

Which was read.

Mr. Murphy moved

Whereas, It appears by the public press of the city that Joseph C. Wasson, a member of this Council, in breach of all form and precedent, and in disregard of all duty and respect to the members of the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, has in a public, political speech used language giving rise to the innuendo that some six members of his associates of said Councils are now and have been guilty of bribery in relation to the performance of their official duties as such members of Councils, and that said members so charged are in the private pay of some person or persons and thereby and by reason thereof are corruptly and criminally controlled by and under the dictation of such person or persons in promoting and enacting legislation in relation to the public business and affairs of the City of Pittsburgh; and

Select and Common Council of the City of Pittsburgh:

GENTLEMEN:

In the year 1901, the Sisters of Divine Providence were assessed on 2.3 acres of land in the Nineteenth ward of the City of Pittsburgh, together with buildings thereon, which, under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, was not liable for taxation, and on which the said Sisters of Divine Providence paid an excess of taxation, as hereinafter set forth, to-wit: In the year 1901, the Board of Assessors corrected said error and made the amount of assessment $9,900, on which they were actually liable to pay taxes, but in the years prior thereto, they paid taxes not only on the amount they were liable for, but also upon an excess of assessment for which they were not liable; so that they actually paid taxes for the years 1898, 1899 and 1900, on an excess assessment of $22,695 in each year, and the amount of taxes paid by said Sisters of Divine Providence for the said years of 1898, 1899 and 1900, in excess of what they were actually liable for, aggregated the sum of $1,066.66; and which said amount thus paid in excess of what they were liable for, they ask your honorable bodies to order to be refunded to them.

And they will ever pray.

Mr. Benz presented

No. 562.

PITTSBURGH, PA., March 5, 1903.

MR. JOHN BENZ,

City:

Dear Sir:

I enclose letter of Mr. Henry W. Oliver with reference to the South Side Bath House. Be kind enough to present it at the first meeting of Councils.

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. OLIVER.

PITTSBURGH, January 20, 1903.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Having noted an agitation among the people of the South Side for the providing of public baths, and knowing from long business residence in that section of the city the great and growing necessity for a commodious and well-equipped bath house, I make the following proposition, viz:

I am the owner of a plot of ground nearly one hundred (100) feet front, on corner of Tenth and Bingham streets (immediately opposite the Twenty-ninth ward public school house) and about sixty (60) feet in depth. The lot is a typical one for the purpose, being centrally located and of proper shape.

I will erect on the above land a modern fireproof bath house and swimming pool, of size to cover the whole lot, and of appropriate and ornamental architectural design. On the completion of the building, I will deed the property to the City of Pittsburgh, the only stipulation being that the baths shall be free for the use of the people forever.

I dislike in making a present to involve the recipient in probably an equivalent cash outlay, which might mar the pleasure and enjoyment of privileges afforded by the gift, and will, therefore, make an endowment or provision for the payment of the salaries of the attendants employed at the bath house, either by giving say eighty thousand ($80,000) dollars, in cash, to the treasury of the City of Pittsburgh, the interest on which should be sufficient to provide funds to pay the bath house pay-roll, or by depositing securities in the Union Trust Company, of Pittsburgh, the income accruing from which to be paid the city to provide for the fund.

The above maintenance question to be open until the legal procedure has been ascertained at a meeting with the proper committee of your Councils, the City Attorney, and the Chief of the Department that will finally have charge of the property, when we will make arrangements that will be final.

The only consideration I require from the City of Pittsburgh, when passing the ordinance accepting the gift, is an agreement that the city will furnish the bath house with light and heat (which can be provided for in the annual contract for heating and lighting city buildings, stations and engine houses), and an ample quantity of water from the city reservoirs, which draw their supply from the Allegheny river. This can be done at a small expense, as the city has a water main (the diameter of which, I think, is about thirty (30) inches) on Carson street, but one square distant from the site of the proposed bath house.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY W. OLIVER.

Chairman Lambie said:

"Gentlemen, you are all aware that at a meeting held on last Friday the meeting was adjourned by the Chair to this hour for the purpose of taking up the matter that was then under consideration. In pursuance of that adjournment you have met here. In the meantime, a man who has long occupied a public position, and one of the officials of the City of Pittsburgh, first as Director of the Department of Public Safety and afterwards as Recorder, died very suddenly and unexpectedly yesterday afternoon. It is a great gratification to the Chair to know that in the presence of death all ill-will and animosity, all political spirit, has been buried. During the former part of this day the Chair has heard, from so many members of Councils and so many political adversaries and from the newspapers which opposed him in life, nothing but kindly words.

"The Chair has had a meeting with the Chairman of Common Council, to exchange ideas upon this subject, and he finds that gentleman is in entire sympathy with the feelings I have expressed. If it is agreeable to this body, I would suggest that we transact no business except for the passage of a joint resolution which he suggested to me, viz., that a Joint Committee be appointed. Mr. Crawford will appoint his part of the committee without a resolution. He will appoint them this afternoon. I would suggest that we adjourn to meet to-morrow at noon in Joint Session, to take joint action on the resolution on the death of the late Recorder, J. O. Brown.

"The Chairman of Common Council is in entire accord with these sentiments, and will this afternoon, without waiting for his Council, appoint a committee, and to-morrow at noon we will meet in Joint Session to hear the report of that committee.

"If this is acceptable to you, you will simply make a motion to that effect."

Mr. Sankey moved

That a Joint Committee of seven, three from Select and four from Common Councils, be appointed to draw up a suitable resolution on the death of our late Recorder, J. O. Brown, and that Council do now adjourn out of respect to his memory, to meet to-morrow at noon.

Which motion prevailed.

And Messrs. Atkinson, Sankey and Wightman were appointed.

And Council adjourned.

"In behalf of the committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of our late Recorder, we wish to present to Councils the following:"

And Mr. Leslie presented

No. 563.

Hon. Joseph Owen Brown, second Recorder of the City of Pittsburgh, died at his home Sunday, March 15, 1903, at a quarter after four in the afternoon. He was in his 58th year, and his had been a very busy life. Starting in the race without money, influence or position, he, by his own exertions, carved out a career and achieved a distinction attained by very few indeed. A public officer in this city and county for over 30 years, his life and character are known to all, and his actions and accomplishments are inseparably interwoven with the history of this locality; his record can afford to invite criticism, and any impartial and intelligent judgment thereon will redound to his everlasting fame and credit.

First, clerk in the Prothonotary's office for a series of years—then Prothonotary of Allegheny county for two consecutive terms—then the first Director of the Department of Public Safety of the City of Pittsburgh, a position which he held from 1888 until 1901, and then in 1901 Recorder of the City of Pitta-burgh, holding this great office until his death.

It is familiar history to all that from chaos itself he organized the Department of Public Safety, and made it efficient and effective to the last degree. Under his guidance, and because of his ability and integrity, the Bureaus of Police, of Fire, of Health and of Building Inspection were wisely and systematically enlarged, strengthened and improved, until at last perfection itself was well nigh achieved. Our city was most orderly and law-abiding—no great crimes or professional criminals existed hereabouts—the petty violators of the law were promptly punished and restrained, until our corporate name became a synonym for Puritanism. Fearful conflagrations were subdued and prevented from spreading to surrounding property. The public health was preserved and threatened epidemics promptly met and throttled. The bacteriological farm, with its free vaccine virus and anti toxin, was by him established, and most rigid but sensible and practical rules and regulations ordained for the erection of all buildings in our midst. Upon his record as Director of the Department of Public Safety any man could have safely rested his claim to fame and greatness.

As Recorder he encountered the impossible task of accomplishing all he planned and intended, because of warring factions on all sides of him during the few months he held this exalted office. He governed at a time when factional disturbance and factional success was placed above municipal progress and municipal success. But every student of our city's affairs knows that he accomplished very much indeed that was good and valuable; that he inaugurated very much that will be carried out and completed hereafter, to our city's credit, glory and welfare, and that he so administered the duties of his great office during such troublesome times as to merit the praise and gratitude of all, and with an eye single to the advantage and welfare of this community.

As a man he was kind, gentle, conscientious and upright. He was truly charitable, and multitudes in this great city know of his substantial generosity to them, all the sweeter by far because of its great secrecy. His subordinates, to a man, loved him and depended upon him, and the Firemen's Disability Fund and the Police Pension Fund stand as monuments of his thoughtfulness for them. Diffident, reticent and sensitive, he shunned the gaze and plaudits of the multitude, but his nobility of character, his steadfastness of purpose, his loyalty and disinterestedness were acknowledged by all.

And so, therefore, with the fullest realization that in his death this community has lost a truly great man, that this city has lost one of its best and greatest citizens, and that one of the best officials this municipality ever had has been summoned to his long home, it is ordered that this minute be transcribed upon the records of the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, in memory of Recorder Joseph Owen Brown, a true friend, an enterprising citizen, an honest man and an officer faithful to all his trusts,

T. O. ATKINSON,
JAMES S. WIGHTMAN,
W. E. SANKEY,
J. P. STERRETT,
THOMAS DELANEY,
JOSEPH G. ARMSTRONG,
M. G. LESLIE, Chairman.

Which was read.

Mr. Leslie moved

That the resolutions be adopted by a rising vote.

Which motion prevailed.

And the resolutions were adopted unanimously.

Mr. Shaw moved

That the Recorder-elect, William B. Hays, be invited to attend the funeral with Councils.

Mr. Leslie moved to amend

That a committee of five, with the Recorder-elect and both Presidents of Councils, be appointed to attend the funeral.

Which amendment was accepted by Mr. Shaw.

And the motion prevailed.

Chairman Murphy appointed Messrs. Ruhlant and Zahner on behalf of Select Council.

And President Crawford appointed Messrs. Leslie, Delaney and Wolfe on behalf of Common Council.

Mr. Brand moved

That all public buildings of the city be draped for a period of thirty (30) days out of respect to the memory of the late Recorder.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Leslie said:

"An invitation has been extended to attend the services at the residence of the late Recorder at 8 o'clock this evening, and I would move that all who can and wish to attend meet at Penn avenue and Evaline street at 7:40 o'clock this evening, and proceed to the residence so as to be there in time for the services.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Brand moved

That the Joint Session do now adjourn.

Which motion prevailed.

And Select Council returned to its own chamber.

Mr. Atkinson moved

That the action of the Joint Session be ratified.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Lang moved

That Council do now adjourn to meet on Friday, March 20, 1903, at 8 o'clock P. M.
